RAIS BRIGHTEN CROP PROSPECTS ON PRAIRIES

Thornton Urges C.N.R. Capital Be Written Down

C.N.R. Lines Will Pay Profit When Times Improve, Says Head

In Fairness to the System, There Should be Revision of Financial Structure, Thornton Tells Committee of Commons; All Officials Aiding in New Economy Campaign

Ottawa, June 11.—Revision of the financial structure of the Canadian National Railways is needed, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the government road, to-day told the special Commons committee on C.N.R. affairs. In some respects the capital was too high and did not represent the true financial worth of the property, he said. No private company would labor under this apparent disadvantage.

But even without a revision of the capital structure, Sir Henry was confident the national road, with a return of prosperity, would be able to make substantially better returns than at present. Questions relating to salaries of C.N.R. executives would not be answered until the return to Ottawa of Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, announced Hon. J. D. Chaplin, committee chairman. The committee adjourned until next Tuesday.

During this forenoon's sitting George Nicholson, Conservative member for East Algonia, Ont., asked Sir Henry if he did not think the capital structure of the road too high. Could the road be expected to pay with the present structure, he inquired.

WOULD WRITE IT DOWN
No private company would consider the present capital structure of the road sound, replied Sir Henry. For example, the government had purchased the interests of Mackenzie and Mann—the old Canadian Northern—for $10,000,000 and then written up the capital to $100,000,000. The difference of $90,000,000 was "pure water. It represents no tangible assets and should be eliminated." There were one or more items of the type in the capital fabric, he said.

CAN PAY PROFIT
"But can this road be made to pay?" repeated Sir Henry.
"Given a reasonable return to prosperity," the answer was yes. In 1928, when times were prosperous, the road not only paid its fixed charges and interest on the debt, but made $8,000,000 besides."

ALL ANGLES STUDIED
What did the railway intend to do about failing revenues? asked R. A. Hanson, Conservative member for York-Sunbury, N.B. Revenues of the road for the first part of June had dropped twenty-five per cent. And "things are worse now than they were in 1928," he added.

"You are quite correct, and I share your alarm," replied Sir Henry. "But frankly I do not know the answer to your question. Perhaps it should be addressed to the prophets of Israel. We cannot announce what we are going to do because we do not know."

Where to economize during the present depression was causing "many sleepless nights," said the railway president. Everything possible was being done to reduce expenses, compatible with necessary maintenance and service.

SUBMARINE IS TOMB OF MEN

Eighteen in British Craft on Bottom Off China All Dead, Says Report

London, June 11.—The British Admiralty has abandoned hope any of the men trapped in the sunken submarine Poseidon off Weihaiwei, China, might still be alive.

The commander-in-chief of the fleet in Chinese waters said word there was no foundation for reports some of the crew trapped in the ship were still living.

His message confirmed reports that divers bent down from the aircraft carrier Hermes had received no reply to messages tapped out on the submarine's hull.

Eighteen Casualties

Hongkong, June 11.—Naval authorities to-day said a report from Weihaiwei, China, that eight men were alive in the sunken British submarine.

Newfoundland To Budapest If They Succeed

One of the ten planes being tuned at New York or nearby fields for early attempts at transatlantic flights is pictured above. The two Hungarians, Alexander Magyar, thirty-three (left in inset), and Capt. George Magyar, thirty-seven (right), have the ambitious plan of flying from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Budapest, Hungary, by way of the Arctic route. They hope the 630 gallons of gasoline will enable them to make a non-stop flight to their home country.

FOREST FIRE IS FOUGHT BY CREW

Haney, B.C., June 11.—Fifty men are fighting a bush fire on the limits of the Abernethy-Lougheed Logging Co. Ltd., south of Alouette Lake, on both sides of the Alouette River. It is reported practically under control.

DENY PRISONER ON EXHIBITION

Prince Rupert Police Term Olsen's Charge "Tissue of Lies"

Prisoner Made Keys Out of Spoons; Took Off His Leg Irons, Police Say

Charles Olsen was not exhibited as a desperado at Prince Rupert following his arrest last April on a charge of wounding with intent to maim, the British Columbia Court of Appeal was assured by A. M. Johnson, K.C., this morning. The statement was presented after an official investigation of charges made on Monday by Olsen during his personal appeal against his sentence. Had the charge been sustained, Olsen would have been entitled to a new trial, Crown counsel admitted.

Mr. Johnson read a telegram sent by Col. J. H. McMillan, Commissioner of Police, to the Prince Rupert authorities, which called for sifting the charge to the bottom.

The reply was to the effect the charge was "a tissue of lies" and that Olsen had only been leg-ironed after the police were warned he was planning an escape. The prisoner got out of the leg irons. No workmen had viewed the prisoner and no police officer had discussed Olsen's case with visitors to the goal who were later on the petit jury.

Keys made from spoons, which operated cell locks, had been discovered in a cell previously occupied by Olsen and when he re-entered the lock-up he asked another prisoner what had become of them. He had also attempted to keep possession of another spoon from which to make another key.

The court thanked Mr. Johnson for his prompt inquiry and for the assurance given the charge against the provincial police was baseless.

MINISTER RESIGNS

Washington, June 11.—The Chinese Legation here to-day announced Minister Chao Chu-wu had resigned his post. Legation attaches declined to go into details, but said the resignation was for "political reasons." The minister was said by legation attaches to be "out of sympathy with the Nanking Government."

QUAKE IN REGION OF TOKIO BUT NO DAMAGE IS REPORTED

Tokio, June 11.—An earthquake shook Tokyo and adjacent territory to-day as half the population of the Yokohama-Tokio district was out to see Prince Takamatsu and his bride return home from their round-the-world honeymoon tour.

The quake, a horizontal movement, struck at 3.15 p.m. Japan time, just as the Emperor's brother and his wife were entering Tokyo aboard a train from Yokohama.

The Prince and Princess did not feel the quake, but it shook an area of seventy miles around the metropolitan centre. No damage was reported. Its duration was about one minute.

At the Tokyo station the travelers were greeted by 500 prominent officials, several members of the royal family and officers of the army and navy, as well as Premier Wakatsuki and other officers of the cabinet.

NEW HOME

The honeymooners were taken in an imperial automobile to a new home established for them in their absence. Later they went to the imperial palace and were received by the Emperor and Empress.

Princess Kikuko told passengers on the liner Chichibu Maru, on which she returned to Japan from the United States, that her only regret in her six weeks' sojourn in America was her inability to attend more talks.

City School Board Is Opposed To Shorter Summer Holidays

Parents, Teachers and Pupils Against Change, Board Is Told

Ask Return to Old System; Withdraw From Trustees' Association

The Victoria School Board does not favor the new schedule for school summer holidays, and will ask the Minister of Education to return to the old system, under which schools get out on the last Friday in June and return the Tuesday after Labor Day.

Feeling on this point ran high at the meeting of the board yesterday evening when the committee allowed out the old-fashioned policy helmet, along with the belt and tunic, which has been the unique mark of the Victoria force for years was missing.

In its place was a neat cap, similar to that worn by motorcycle officers. The tunic has changed with the long row of buttons down the front missing and a newer style replacing them. The belt is also missing.

A full-dress parade of the uniformed section of the force was held at headquarters at 2 o'clock when the police commissioners inspected the new styles decided upon by them some months ago.

Placing of the "bobby" helmet may occasion some regret to Victoria citizens, particularly the old-timers. It has been a distinctive mark of the local force. United States tourists have always noticed it and perhaps it helped in no small measure to prompt the phrase of Arthur Brisbane who said Victoria was "as British as Basingstoke."

In replacing the helmets with caps the commission allowed out the old-fashioned policy helmet, along with the belt and tunic, which has been the unique mark of the Victoria force for years was missing.

Wong Sue Has Porcelain Figure, Which He Says Helps Along Empress of Japan

The secret of the Empress of Japan's speed, which has brought the big Canadian Pacific liner undisputed possession of all records for swift travel on the Pacific, was explained to his own satisfaction by Wong Sue, Chinese interpreter aboard the big ship when she arrived from the Orient yesterday.

Wong told how a precious idol of the Ming dynasty in China, which has been in his family for more than 400 years, has sped the big Empress on her record-making voyages. Unusually, Wong explained, he prays to this porcelain figure, beseeching it to propitiate the evil demons and lend vigor to the ship.

The charm has never failed to work. The little interpreter declared vehemently, and ever since the Empress of Japan first arrived here last August she has been breaking records for the Victoria-Yokohama direct run, and between Victoria and Honolulu and Honolulu and Yokohama.

The Empress of Japan is not the only ship on which Wong's sacred heirloom has worked its magic, he explained yesterday. For many years before it had been unconstitutionally deprived of his standing as a clergyman.

START BRIDGE BUILDING FOR INTERSWITCH

Driving of piles for the bridge across the harbor road to carry trackage in the inter-switching between E. and N. and C.V. Railways commenced yesterday. The job is proceeding steadily, and grading is nearly completed.

C.N.R. officials said this morning laying of steel and ballasting would probably start within two weeks.

SPOSITO MUST SERVE YEAR ON BEER CHARGE

Judge Lampman Affirms Sentence Imposed By Magistrate Jay

Conviction to Be Reviewed By Court of Appeal, Defence Counsel Announces

Judge P. S. Lampman this morning in County Court confirmed the sentence of one year imprisonment with hard labor, recently imposed on Angelo Sposito by Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court, for having beer for sale at the Northern Hotel. The accused admitted a liquor conviction in June, 1927. Following the rising of the court Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for Sposito, announced that the conviction would be appealed, and an application made for release of the prisoner on bail bonds.

After brief addresses by Mr. Higgins and C. L. Harrison, crown prosecutor, His Honor said: "The case, as absent on leave while the case was on appeal, was called down to take over the floor. The question is, what does that mean? It appears Sposito was then really running the place. It does not seem to be an unfair inference that anyone come in and wanted a drink, he would have been served. Sposito would have sold him one. There is no evidence that Sposito went around before he went out, to see everyone had enough to last until his return. On that ground I cannot see how a conviction can be avoided."

SECOND GROUND
"On the second ground, as to the issue, I would have some doubt as to the matter were it not for the evidence of Inspector Boulton regarding statements made by the accused. There is very strong suspicion that the case was drawn after March and before May 2, but was kept around in case it might be needed."

AIRPORT CAN SHOW PROFIT

Many Sources of Revenue For Modern Landing Fields For Planes

The modern airport, providing facilities for all classes of planes, can be operated on a money-making basis, it is pointed out by proponents of Victoria's plan for a permanent airfield. The day is past when planes land in any grassy field that can be found free of charge. Aviation is a commercial enterprise and the handling of machines on the ground costs money as well as flying them.

There are several avenues open for revenue outside of actual charges for use of the field as a landing place. As a matter of fact, the tendency is to dispense with the single landing fee, although a small sum is often charged for the privilege of setting a machine down at an airport.

SPACE RENTAL

Rental of space in hangars, terminal buildings or of space for the open storage of planes is a valuable revenue source. The aviation department scale for medium size machines is $100 per day for ground space, including landing privileges, or $3 per day for hangar space. Monthly rental of hangar space is worth $45.

Lockers, tool boxes and other minor items may be rented and ground space for erection of private hangars may be leased. There is also an income from mechanical services, wash and repairing, as well as for the operation of field lights at night landings.

Some airports charge a fee of ten cents or so for each passenger carried for hire from the field, while operators may derive a royalty from gasoline, oil and supplies sold on the field. Outside of this there are numerous concessions, such as news stands, barber shops, restaurants and so forth, which bring a return.

It can easily be seen, when an airport is operating steadily, that a fair profit is operating in all probability. The income will in all probability show a profit on operating costs. Supporters of the local airport believe within a few years the field would start to pay for itself. Several Canadian airports at the present time are on a money-making basis.

WESTMINSTER GRAND JURY FINDS "NO BILL" AGAINST G. E. NEILSON AND J. G. MILLICAMP

New Westminster, June 11.—Charges of manslaughter against George E. Neilson, New Westminster, and J. G. Millicamp, Vancouver, were thrown out by the grand jury at the assize court here which it returned "no bill" on these indictments. Hugh Gifford, foreman of the grand jury, returned the indictments to Mr. Justice Denis Murphy at the opening of to-day's session. No comment was made by Mr. Justice Murphy.

Neilson and Millicamp were charged in connection with the tragic death of Miss Audrey Goss, Duke of Connaught high school student, April 23. Miss Goss received fatal injuries when she was crushed beneath Millicamp's car as it overturned after a collision with a car driven by Neilson.

The collision occurred at Fourth Street and Queen's Avenue and Miss Goss at the time was crossing Fourth Street with a school companion, Miss Grace Mackay, who was injured also in the accident. Both girls were struck as they stepped on the curb after crossing the street.

CLOTHING STOLEN

Vernon, B.C., June 11.—Thieves broke into a Vernon Steam Laundry some time yesterday evening and removed twelve suits of clothes which were there for pressing and cleaning. The theft was discovered this morning.

Manitoba Farmers Rejoice As Showers Move East From Saskatchewan Line

Downfall Not Heavy, But It Is Expected to Result in Increase in Grain Yield Above Recent Estimates; Alberta and Saskatchewan Districts Benefit From Rains

EDMONTONIAN HEADS POLICE CHIEFS' GROUP

Quebec, June 11.—A. G. Shute, chief of police of Edmonton, was unanimously elected president of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada when the election of officers was held this forenoon, concluding the three-day convention of the association here.

Chief A. Dubois of Verdun, Que., and Chief David Coulter of Hamilton, Ont., were named first and second vice-presidents, respectively, and Chief C. M. Newton, of Winnipeg was re-elected treasurer.

When rain had been falling for more than five hours in the Winnipeg district, from rural areas came reports of the first precipitation in weeks, which started as early as 1 a.m. to-day and continued throughout the morning.

GROWTH IS RAPID

Brilliant sunshine followed rain clouds in the Calgary district to-day, but northern Alberta continued in the precipitation area with a steady drizzle in crop lands this morning. Crop and pasture lands have been wonderfully revived, and under the present favorable conditions reports state the grain is making rapid growth.

Saskatchewan districts had heavy showers yesterday evening, but there were indications of clearing skies to-day. In the Moose Jaw area, where rain continued from 9 a.m. Wednesday until 7 o'clock this morning, agriculturalists estimate the moisture penetrated to a depth of between five and six inches. Estimates of an inch of precipitation in the dried-out southern section of the province are erroneous according to weather reports issued to-day, but the rain was fairly heavy and will prove of much value in the drought district.

NEILL DEMANDS STATEMENT ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Comox-Alberni M.P. Urges Opposition to Press Till Bennett Tells Relief Plans

Ottawa, June 11.—Resuming the debate on the budget in the Commons this afternoon, A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni) declared he considered it to be the duty of the official opposition and of the independent groups to continue this opposition until the government made a statement on its policy respecting unemployment relief. A statement should be made by the government and financial provisions submitted for approval of the house at an early date and not just before prorogation.

A framework of its national fuel policy had been provided in the budget, but he felt the miners of his part of the country should be put on a parity with other sections of Canada in the matter of assistance. So far as British Columbia was concerned, the assistance provided in the budget for the coal industry was "a jest, not even a gesture."

NO TRIAL ON AUTO DEATH

Westminster Grand Jury Finds "No Bill" Against G. E. Neilson and J. G. Millicamp

New Westminster, June 11.—Charges of manslaughter against George E. Neilson, New Westminster, and J. G. Millicamp, Vancouver, were thrown out by the grand jury at the assize court here which it returned "no bill" on these indictments. ### MAYOR ANSCOMB IS TO BE "KNIGHT" OF PORTLAND, ORE.

Portland, Ore., June 11.—Subjects of the mythical Kingdom of Rosaria paid homage to their queen here to-day. In an impressive coronation ceremony marking the opening of the annual Portland Rose Festival, Queen Rachel I was presented with a crown and sceptre, and her subjects pledged themselves to happy servitude.

This was followed by the formal opening of Portland's forty-third annual Rose Show and by the children's drill in which 40,000 grade pupils were entered.

This evening a group of distinguished visitors will be knighted by the Royal Rosarians. Queen Rachel will use a rose instead of a sword, with the knighting to be performed with all the dignity of a court of a European monarch.

Among those to be knighted are Mayor Herbert Anscorn of Victoria, B.C., and Mayor Louis D. Taylor, mayor of Vancouver.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD IS OPPOSED TO SHORTER SUMMER HOLIDAYS

day matter could only be straightened out by remaining in the association. Trustee P. E. George agreed.

It was pointed out that apparently the trustees' association did not represent the full opinion of school boards of the Province.

The motion against payment of the fee carried, with Trustees Ferguson, George and Beckwith opposed. Trustee Emery brought his motion opposing the change in holidays up later in the meeting. There had been, he said, a widespread protest against it, and justly so. It inconvenienced teachers, pupils and parents.

Trustee Ferguson, who seconded, said nothing was gained by the new scheme. Trustee Beckwith pointed out that the minister would refer the request to the trustees' association in all probability, and it was a pity the board had decided to withdraw from the organization. It was the practice of governmental departments to listen to such organizations in making legislative changes, and it was hard for one board to be heard. He favored the spirit of the motion, however.

HAD TO CHANGE
Trustee McMillan said several people had prepared for their holidays ahead of time, and the new regulation made

CONSULS AT FOCHOW CALL FOR WARSHIPS

British, U.S. and Japanese Citizens Menaced By South China Red Hordes

Armed Communists Advance After Defeating Nationalist Government Troops

Tokyo, June 11.—The British, United States and Japanese consuls at Fochow, South China, this evening asked their government to send warships to the Fukien Province capital to protect their respective nations from Communist violence.

Fochow was said to have been exposed to red depredations with the crushing defeat of Chinese Government troops by invading Communists.

GIRL BANDITS

Shanghai, June 11.—Activities of girl bandits in various parts of central China have become so widespread that troops have been sent from Hankow to round them up. The most dangerous of the bandit leaders is Ho Yin, a pretty girl who claims to be a sister of China's notorious outlaw, Ho Lung.

Educated at a mission school, Miss Ho Yin heads a desperate band of so-called "Trustees" association whose policy is robbery with violence. Two other dangerous commanders of the Amosons are Miss Ho Hsing-ku and Miss Hu Chin, who have been operating in northwestern China.

FIRE RIFLES

Firing rifles and revolvers, the Amosons sweep through towns. Half the band holds the terrified population while the others loot shops and houses, after which they all make their getaway with blood-curdling yells.

Mr. Harrison asked confirmation of the sentence of twelve months with hard labor which was imposed by Magistrate Jay. When Mr. Higgins appealed for reduction to six months, he said that there was no error on the part of the minister, who must view the situation from the point of the whole province.

The resolution of protest passed unanimously.

view of the heavy additional taxation imposed on the consumers of the country.

"And whereas the general economic situation in the Dominion as reflected in the financial statement contained in the present budget is extremely serious and indicates shrinking revenues consequent on business stagnation and a tremendous decrease in commodity values accompanied by a corresponding decline in general purchasing power;

NEW CO-OPERATION

"This House is of the opinion the present economic conditions demand intelligent and intensive study and definite planning on a national scale, with the view of substituting well-defined co-operative principles in respect of production and distribution, together with the mobilization of our natural resources, technical equipment and the financial machinery, in place of the highly competitive system under which we are suffering at the present time.

"As it is apparent these fundamental changes cannot be put into effect in the immediate future, and that the present situation requires some prompt action;

"And as the present financial situation is in many respects similar to, but more serious than that which prevailed in 1914, at which time extraordinary measures were taken by the government, including the suspension of the redemption of Dominion notes in gold;

"This House is of the opinion it is expedient to again suspend redemption of Dominion notes in gold in order that:

"(A) Commodity price levels may be raised, thus increasing the purchasing power of those engaged in agriculture, mining, forestry, fishing and other primary industries and in this way promoting a corresponding increase in the volume of employment;

"(B) That the burden of both public and private debts and the interest thereon may be lightened;

"(C) That the amount of currency and credit available for the purposes of trade and commerce within the country may be increased;

"(D) That through the increased volume of trade thus secured there might result larger revenues without any increase in the rate of taxation."

COWICHAN CRICKET

Duncan, June 1.—The Cowichan Cricket Club were hosts to a team from Cowichan Bay on Saturday at the sports ground. The Cowichan Club batted first and scored 147, of which Mowbray made 53. The Bayites replied with 223, to which Legge 40 and Mayo 37 were the chief contributors. The match was closely contested and eventually resulted in a win for the Cowichan Club by 24 runs.

Vancouver, June 11.—Prospects of lower milk prices in Vancouver are held out by A. H. Mercer of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association. Explaining to dairymen yesterday that the selling price of milk had been lower for the last month than for some years, he said the consumers would likely receive an extra quart for every dollar shortly. This would make twelve quarts for a dollar to Vancouver house-holders.

Mr. Mercer spoke at the annual meeting of the B.C. Dairymen's Association. Recent rains and bounteous pastures are adding to the problems of scientific milk distribution. At present 6,000 gallons of skim milk daily are being poured into the river at Se-

DEMONSTRATORS BEFORE COURT IN VANCOUVER

Men Arrested During Disorders Listed By Magistrate For Hearing June 11

Police Say They Believe One Man Had Wire to Pull Police Off Horses

Vancouver, June 11.—The men arrested here yesterday during a demonstration of unemployed persons appeared in police court to-day and were remanded till June 17 for hearing.

Gordon Hamilton, charged with being a member of an unlawful assembly, was granted bail of $2,000. The prosecution alleged Hamilton was found to be carrying a snare made of wire, City Prosecutor O. Orr said it was believed the snare was to be used to pull mounted officers from their horses.

BAIL DOWN TO $500

Bail for Thomas J. Bradley and James Andrew also charged with being members of an unlawful assembly, was set at $1,000 each. Bail was set at the same figure for John Trabs, charged with assaulting a peace officer, and at $500 for John Lind, who faced a charge of the same nature. Bail for the others, who face charges under the vagrancy section, was set at $25 each.

HEARD ON AIR

"We must take the Cossacks off the streets before it is too late," declared Dr. Lyle Telford in the course of a radio address yesterday evening during which he referred to the unemployed demonstration yesterday.

"Our people want work. They must be fed. They are starving through no fault of their own."

The great part of Dr. Telford's address discussed the Bennett budget, which he declared was "more grief for the people."

Vancouver, June 10.—Twenty-four men were arrested yesterday evening during a demonstration at the Cambie Street grounds and the City Hall here yesterday afternoon.

A delegation which appeared at the City Hall to present "demands" of the jobless, including unconditional release of Alan Campbell, their jailed leader, was refused a hearing.

The demonstration started at the Cambie Street grounds at 2:30 p.m. when hundreds of men gathered. As no permit for a meeting had been obtained, the police moved in and the men began to drift toward the City Hall.

Police turned the milling mob off Hastings Street at Carrall, and the men drifted toward the Powell Street grounds.

In the meantime, a committee of two men and two women managed to slip into the City Hall, where they held their way to the meeting of the civic finance committee.

MAYOR'S POSITION

"I object to the committee hearing these delegates," Mayor Louis D. Taylor said. "I have already refused them a hearing. They are not on the grounds, and they made no application for a permit to parade."

It was decided not to hear the delegates under the circumstances.

Nine arrests were made at Cambie Street, mostly on charges of creating a disturbance, and nine more at Carrall Street and at the Powell Street grounds. The crowd rallied back toward the City Hall about half an hour after the streets had been cleared, and six more arrests were made.

Constable A. Spencer of the mounted force was struck by a volley of stones on Hastings Street and suffered minor injury to his elbow.

THE "DEMANDS"

At the civic finance committee meeting Alderman J. J. McKee declared the committee should not hear the delegates under the circumstances.

"I take it they are appealing on the same grounds as during the winter," said Alderman W. H. Lemke.

"No—they are far more absurd," answered Mayor Taylor. "Here's what they are asking," he added, taking a typewritten document from one of the delegates.

He read demands for $15 a week for single men, $25 a week for married men, free meals for children in the schools and the right to hold meetings on the Cambie Street grounds and elsewhere.

"Why don't you read the last clause—you pretend to represent democracy," taunted one of the delegates.

"Well, what you are asking is ridiculous," replied the Mayor. "He's the man who started all this."

CO-OPERATION STILL BRITISH LIBERALS' PLAY

Edinburgh, Scotland, June 11.—Co-operation between the Liberal and Labor parties has not failed yet and it will not fail "if both parties display reason and common sense," Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, said in a speech here to-day.

In spite of our difficulties," he said, referring to an impending split on the penny-a-pound land value tax, "I do not regret our experiment in co-operation even if it should fail."

The Liberals, he said, were in a position of great difficulty for they had been held responsible for governmental failures which they could not prevent, and which it will be said were "tolerated."

In the other hand were the party to terminate its co-operation with the Laborers, "we could equally be held responsible for the consequences of our action."

VICTORIA MEN INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

G. W. Brook and H. A. Dane, Hurt at Cobble Hill, Taken to Duncan Hospital

Special in The Times

Duncan, June 11.—G. W. Brook and H. A. Dane, Victoria men, were injured here to-day as the result of an accident which occurred last evening on the highway at Cobble Hill.

Their returning Victoria from the highway, was precipitated over the side of the highway.

Brooks and Dane were badly cut and shaken up by the crash. They are being attended by Dr. R. F. Swan.

C. W. Brooks resides at 620 Bay Street and H. A. Dane at 2670 Cranmore Road. Mr. Brooks left this morning for Duncan to be near his husband.

Both occupants of the car, it is understood, were cut about the face and body when their car, in which they were returning from the Victoria Fairgrounds, collided with the low loading platform on the road near Cobble Hill. The accident is said to have been caused by the blowing of a tire.

PEOPLE BACK C.N.R. SYSTEM, STATES EULER

Mr. Euler said his chief object in speaking at this time was to deal with the attitude of the government in connection with the Canadian National Railways by Premier Bennett and Mr. Hackett.

If Mr. Hackett's speech indicated the attitude of the government and was the beginning of a new campaign of propaganda against the Canadian National, the government was playing with fire, said Mr. Euler. It would certainly be condemned by the Canadian people.

"I should like to remind the House," he said, "that it was because the railways were a failure under private ownership that they were taken over by the government. The government had failed absolutely. Once taken over it was the duty of the government to consolidate them and operate them."

The speaker was a legacy from private ownership and is not chargeable to public ownership at all," said Mr. Euler. "If the roads had been allowed to continue in bankruptcy and had been sold for scrap what chance would the country have had of recovering any part of that sum?"

This $804,000,000 should be wiped off the books entirely, said Mr. Euler, so that when the Canadian National was compared with the Canadian Pacific as a privately-owned road, it would not be charged with what was the result of the failure of private ownership. If interest on that sum were not taken into account the annual deficit for the last ten years would be recorded as between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000. That was serious enough, but it was worth while when the service obtained by the people of Canada was compared with that of the Canadian Pacific, by reason of competition, was taken into account.

POSSIBLE SAVINGS

Mr. Euler said he believed a certain amount of waste had resulted from duplication of lines and services. Some years ago he had made a speech and said $100,000,000 a year could be saved by amalgamation of the two railway systems, and opponents of public ownership had suggested the Canadian National should be sold to the Canadian Pacific for one dollar.

"But I believe," said Mr. Euler, "that amalgamation comes it should be under public ownership and not under private ownership. If things continue as they are for a long period the logic of events may force amalgamation, but it would be a mistake to contemplate amalgamation under private ownership."

DEBT WILL INCREASE

At the outset of his speech Mr. Euler said the present government had put a greater responsibility than any other government since the time of Sir John A. Macdonald. It had increased taxation all along the line, but despite this he did not believe it would be able to avoid increasing the national debt this year.

The Conservative Party, Mr. Euler proceeded, had come into power on a definite promise "to end unemployment." That did not mean to relieve it, but to end it, and the people "will not take the excuse that the government has not had time. The impression was broadcast that unemployment would be ended immediately."

Possibilities of Great Britain turning away from Canada in a trade sense and joining the projected United States of Europe were mentioned by the former minister. This might be a logical result of the failure of Great Britain and Canada to agree on a mutual trade policy. This would leave Canada "on the outside, along with the United States," said Mr. Euler.

SOVIET EMBARGO

Mr. Euler voiced opposition to the Bennett government's embargo on imports from Soviet Russia on the ground it was "unbusinesslike, unbecomingly inefficient, and will hurt no one but ourselves."

"I am opposed to the Russian embargo," said Mr. Euler, and he went on to state the embargo had put on the prohibitive list such commodities as hard coal, lumber, furs, asbestos and pulp. The only one of these commodities Canada imported was hard coal, and this the Dominion did not produce itself, so imported anthracite did not come into competition with domestic production.

The only good we do by putting hard coal from Russia on the prohibited list is to throw business to our friends, the United States," the former minister declared.

He had tried to ascertain the reason why the government had barred goods from Russia. Apparently it was because Russia "is an ungovernable nation and because she has a system of government with which we do not agree."

"Are we acting as a Christian nation when we declare economic war against another country?" asked Mr. Euler.

He held no brief for Russia, he had no sympathy with the methods adopted in that country, but he felt nothing but harm could come to Canada through the imposition of the embargo. He referred to the inconsistency—"I almost said 'hypocrisy'—of the Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, who had called in to the wheat conference delegates from Russia.

"Those delegates must have been laughing up their sleeves when he said we wanted to have nothing to do with them, and then, by a side door procedure, we asked them to do something for us," said Mr. Euler.

The Canadian National Railways also figured in a debate in the Senate yesterday, when a comparison of the figures of the Canadian National Railways with those of the Canadian Pacific was made.

Quoting figures of expenditures in different departments, Senator W. A. Greishbach, Conservative, said that as his opinion the expenses of the Canadian National were too high as compared with those of the Canadian Pacific.

Protesting Senator Greishbach had been unfair to the Canadian National, Senator George Gordon, Conservative of North Bay, Ontario, said the comparisons were not justified. Development of the two systems had to be taken into account, and it should be remembered that the government lines Thornton took over the Canadian National it was in a bad condition. He had succeeded in a few years in bringing the management up to parity with the Canadian Pacific.

Senator Greishbach said the voting strength of the Canadian National employees in some constituencies was great and militated against free and permanent criticism.

Taking into consideration mileage, freight and passengers carried, he found the various operations, which affected operating costs of the two roads were as follows on the C.N.R. to 43.9 on the C.P.R. Under this formula, he said, the C.N.R. would be justified in expending $1,000 to a C.P.R. expenditure of $800.

BOARDS COMPARED

Senator Greishbach compared the Canadian National directors with the C.P.R. directors, and said he found the former board was a better investment of knowledge of the latter. He thought the records of both parties regarding the Canadian National were of value, and that the C.N.R. was in the system and disclaimed any failure.

He thought Parliament, in considering Canadian National expenditures, should have regard to the necessity of making a failure of the system and also destroying the C.P.R. He said the C.P.R. should not be impaired by extravagant C.N.R. expenditures.

NEILL DEMANDS STATEMENT ON UNEMPLOYMENT

HARLEY AND FOUTLEY

The imposition of a tariff on corn simply added another burden to the farmers who had to buy corn for their chickens, said Mr. Neill. It was idle to claim barley could be used instead because hens did not like it, and any interference with the diet of laying hens meant a falling off in egg production.

"My experience with chickens is somewhat ancient," said Mr. Neill. "I well remember their fondness for expensive food."

PROOF LACKING

Premier Bennett's claim that eighty-seven companies had established themselves in Canada since the special session of parliament last September was no proof of the benefits of a high tariff, said Mr. Neill. If it were unemployment figures would not be increasing. The fact was no information was available as to how many of these companies were operating or how many men they employed. At least five per cent of them had not come to Canada on account of the tariff at all.

WHEAT SCHEME

The five-cent bounty on export wheat would increase the unemployment of the British Columbia domestic freight rates in British Columbia, said Mr. Neill. It would mean five cents more a bushel for wheat than exporters. Already some British Columbia buyers were talking of sending an agent to Australia, as they estimated they could buy wheat there for less than the cost of the tariff on wheat they could get it from Alberta.

LOSS OF MARKET

The present government, proceeded Mr. Neill, had "foisted away" the New Zealand market for Canadian goods. When that Dominion removed the preference benefits from Canadian goods it injured British Columbia fishermen. The preference of $1.25 a case on certain kinds of fish was stopped, and this was the direct result of the eight-cent tariff on butter.

The Government, he said, had been warned from many sides that a tariff of four cents was sufficient, and it was accepted. The consequences of the eight-cent rate.

Conditions in the fishing industry in British Columbia were very grave, but he could see no relief in the Bennett budget.

AGE PENSIONS

Referring to old age pensions, the British Columbia Independent said the reason the Dominion was to pay a higher percentage of the cost was because the Maritime Provinces had submitted they were unable to pay anything. Yet the Maritime Provinces had been taking care of their old people. If now they accepted the twenty-five per cent the Dominion offered in the budget, it showed the unworthiness of their claim. If they did not accept, they would be taxed for the Dominion's share, the same as the other provinces and, at the same time, would continue to care for their old people.

MATTHEWS SPEAKS

R. C. Matthews, Conservative, Toronto East Centre, suggested all parties in the Commons should unite their efforts "in these difficult times."

Toronto, June 11.—Urging the merging of Anglican theological colleges in Canada wherever possible, recommendation that the name of the Church of England in Canada should be changed to "the Anglican Church in Canada," and revision of diocesan boundaries are the features of the report of the Anglican National Committee, just released here.

BEAUHARNOIS $10,000,000 SUIT TAKES NEW TURN

At Montreal Transportation and Power Corporation Considers Receivership Order

Montreal, June 11.—Bankruptcy proceedings against the Transportation and Power Corporation and the withdrawal of two of counsel for that company have given a new turn to the company's $10,000,000 action against R. O. Sweeney and others, and the Beauharnois Heat, Light and Power Corporation.

Refusal of the company to carry to the Privy Council in London a petition for leave to appeal from the judgment of Chief Justice Greenfield replacing Mr. Justice Patterson by Mr. Justice Boyer in the $10,000,000 action, resulted in the withdrawal of two of counsel. Refusal to pay one of these lawyers his fee resulted in bankruptcy proceedings.

The action against Beauharnois is that which gave rise to comment in the Commons by Robert Gardiner and the Commons committee yesterday of a Commons committee to investigate Beauharnois.

An interim receiver has been appointed, but the company is contesting the receivership order and proceedings will be opened before Mr. Justice Fanneton next Monday. The petition in bankruptcy was filed by Maxwell B. Singer, Montreal advocate, who was associated with R. L. Calder, K.C., in the conduct of the case against Sweeney.

Teeth—

lovely to begin with deserve the tenderest care

How foolhardy to brush sound, lovely teeth with any but a safe gentle dentifrice which has proved itself in the hands of millions.

Before creating Listerine Tooth Paste we made an exhaustive study of tooth enamel. We examined its structure. We tested its varying degrees of hardness, case after case. We learned that people of today have less sturdy teeth than their ancestors.

Our next duty was to discover cleansing and polishing agents that would be harmless to the precious enamel surface. At length we found, and included them in our dentifrice. Thousands have thanked us for them.

For the sake of your teeth, we ask you to use Listerine Tooth Paste. Note how swiftly but how gently it cleans teeth—erasing fermenting food particles, discolorations, and tartar. Note the lovely luster it imparts to the teeth. Observe their soundness year after year under this gentle care.

In all the field of dentifrices there is no purer, more carefully compounded one than this. In every way it is worthy of the Listerine name. That you can obtain it for 25¢ is due entirely to modern manufacturing methods and mass production. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, Toronto, Ontario.

It saves you enough to buy a toilet set
There are no many things you can buy with that 25¢ you save by using Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ instead of dentifrices in the 50¢ class. A toilet set is merely a suggestion.

TEST VOTE IN BRITISH HOUSE NEXT TUESDAY

London, June 11.—Possibility of the defeat of the MacDonald government in the Commons next Tuesday on the Liberal amendment to the Land Tax Bill was admitted in parliamentary circles to-day.

If the amendment is adopted, resignation of the ministry, dissolution of parliament and the calling of a general election are regarded as almost certain inasmuch as the land tax proposal is one of those major questions which the government views as a matter of confidence.

The conference between Premier MacDonald and Liberal leaders yesterday apparently did not lead to a compromise, and a deadlock appears inevitable. It was said in labor quarters, however, that several Liberals would abstain from voting against the government, and it was hoped there would be enough Liberal defections to avert overthrow of the ministry.

The London Daily Herald, Labor organ, said the government is opposing the amendment, which provides for the exemption of certain classes of income taxpayers from the penny-a-pound levy, would reduce the yield to about one-tenth of the original estimate and would wreck the entire scheme.

SPAIN FARMERS RETURN TO HAND WORK IN FIELDS

Seville, Spain, June 11.—As a means of solving the unemployment problem the civil governors of the Andalusian provinces have taken measures against farming machinery.

Farmers in the Andalusian and Extremadura provinces, who use tractors or other farming mechanical equipment, will be subjected to prosecution, it was announced.

Church Assembly Hears Orr Appeal

Toronto, June 11.—The press was excluded from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada here when a special committee reported on the appeal of Rev. S. Robertson Orr of Vancouver.

Mr. Orr was suspended by the General Assembly at Ottawa two years ago after being named as correspondent in a divorce case. He was found guilty of conduct unbecoming a minister.

His appeal to the Assembly at Hamilton, Ont., in 1929 was dismissed and he filed a suit against the Presbyterian Church in Canada for wrongfully depriving him of his professional standing, but proceedings were later dropped. It is understood this year's committee reported in favor of the sustaining of Mr. Orr's appeal.

SKELETON SENT FROM PEACE RIVER TO OLD COUNTRY

Canadian Press

Edmonton, June 11.—Grim anti-climax to a youthful adventure that started hopefully last October, the John Noel Patch Bennett funeral procession made its way across Canada to-day. All that remains of the eighteen-year-old British schoolboy who dared the Pine Pass trail through the Rockies in an eager attempt to walk from Grande Prairie to Prince George, B.C., and found a frozen death, was en route to his native England by train.

The bleached skeleton, and with it a diary the young adventurer kept up to date until a few hours before he fell exhausted in the Peace River country, snows to die in bleak November, will be shipped to a liner at Montreal and shipped to his home—Oakdene, Manor House, Covehithe, England, by train.

The body was found last month by Kelly Sinderman, veteran guide, near Tillicum Creek. The rifle, gnawed by wolves, a pack of axes and shreds of clothing, also wolf-torn, were beside the remains of the boy who set out with only a pack-horse for a companion.

Hopeful he would get through, the stalwart young Briton, who hoped to enter his country's diplomatic service, was a pack of axes and shreds of clothing, also wolf-torn, were beside the remains of the boy who set out with only a pack-horse for a companion. He had eaten the raw meat of a buck he had shot a few days before his hands and feet were frozen, his feet terribly raw—but he jotted down his confidence that he would reach McLeod "in a week."

It is believed he perished from cold shortly afterward.

Mounted Police Officer Promoted

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 11.—A one-time constable of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Superintendent James W. Spalding of Regina, has been appointed senior assistant commissioner of the force. The appointment, announced by Commissioner Cortlandt Starnes, will take effect from June 15, when Lieut.-Col. G. W. Worley retires on pension from the assistant commissioner post.

Superintendent Spalding joined the Northwest Mounted in Regina thirty-five years ago. He had long service as a constable before starting his climb up through the various ranks to his present high position.

TO AMALGAMATE COLLEGES

Toronto, June 11.—Amalgamation where possible of Anglican theological colleges in Canada is advocated in the report of the Anglican National Commission, made public here yesterday. The commission finds the ten colleges at present operating in the Dominion are more than are needed to keep the ministry of the church up to strength and that a move should be made toward co-operation in order to reduce expenses. The proposal will be considered by the general synod of the Anglican Church in Canada meeting here in September next.

PRAIRIE FARMERS MOVING NORTH

Saskatoon, Sask., June 11.—Families driven from farms in the far south of Saskatchewan by continued drought and crop failure of fertile soil and kinder skies. Two families from the Wood Mountain district, numbering seven persons together, reached the city in wagons yesterday evening and went into camp on the outskirts. They had twenty-four horses, several cows and all their household effects. They expect to travel another 300 miles, but have no definite destination. Neither family has raised a crop since 1928.

RUSSIA RAISING $800,000,000 LOAN TO SPEED UP PLAN

Moscow, June 11.—The government to-day announced the floating of a new internal loan of 1,000,000,000 rubles (about $300,000,000), for the purpose of completing 518 new factories in 1931, finishing 1,640 tractor stations and fulfilling the five-year plan as a whole in four years.

It is called the "third and decisive year loan," and will be issued in two parts, one drawing ten per cent, and the other giving buyers lottery privileges instead of interest.

All the bonds are of fifty rubles denomination and probably will be distributed widely throughout the country. The Young Communists League of more than 2,000,000 members already has pledged to subscribe on the basis of at least one bond per member.

With last year's 1,120,000,000 rubles loan, the new issue brings the internal indebtedness to approximately 6,500,000,000 rubles. The new loan is in line with the government's policy to issue no new currency in 1931.

TEN BROKERS IN JAIL NEAR KINGSTON, ONT.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 11.—Ten former Toronto stock brokers and convicted and sentenced to prison are located at the preferred class penitentiary at Collins Bay, near Kingston, Ont. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, gave this information to the Commons yesterday afternoon.

They were employed on cement mixers, fixing a barn, carpenter work, digging ditches, garden work and the like, and Mr. Guthrie. They were being treated in exactly the same manner as other inmates at the preferred class penitentiary, numbering approximately 200. All prisoners there were short-term prisoners, considered to be "safe" with good service in the penitentiaries. None were of a vicious type.

A philanthropic friend of the broken had donated a gramophone and some records and there was a nucleus of a library.

Short-term prisoners, Mr. Guthrie explained, were those serving under four years. The men qualified for the preferred class penitentiary were first offenders. The men at Collins Bay were sleeping in a building surrounded by a wire fence.

The information was given in answer to a question asked earlier in the week by a member who drew attention to rumors he had heard.

NEW BRITISH AND CANADIAN TELEPHONE LINKS

Recommendations to British Manufacturers By Mission Which Visited Canada

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 11.—More direct telephone communication between Canada and Great Britain is now being studied and may prove an important factor in increasing the sales of British goods in this country. This is one of the important points dealt with in the report of the trade mission composed of prominent British industrialists which was made public in London yesterday.

The mission was in Canada some six weeks ago and visited a number of the larger centres, including Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton and Ottawa.

"This report is very important," said Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an interview after he had perused a cable summary yesterday evening. "I am very glad to see the recommendations they have made."

"The improvement in communications is very important. While here the members of the British mission noted the convenient telephone communication with United States firms gave those firms a tremendous advantage in Canadian trade over British firms, with which business is done largely by cable. Cheaper telephone service with Great Britain is being studied, one direct from Canada to Britain."

NEW CO-OPERATION
London, June 11.—Organization of a co-operative body representing British manufacturers to stimulate sales and service in Canada is the main recommendation of the important trade mission sent to the Dominion recently by the Federation of British Industries. The mission's report, issued yesterday evening, declares: "The time is passing for firms, except those of great magnitude, to endeavor individually to sell their products in Canada."

"Co-operation of home producers is essential in order to build up a selling and service force in Canada sufficient to meet the pressure of competition from foreign countries."

The mission also makes important recommendations urging establishment of better communications and trade facilities between Canada and Great Britain, development of a policy of competition, and the organization of an empire trade statistical bureau.

The mission consisted of Sir James Lithgow, president of the Federation of British Industries; Sir Arthur Duckham and Mr. MacKenzie.

REPORTS UPHOLD
The mission confirms the attitude taken by the federation in reports drawn up for presentation to the last Imperial Conference, and drawn up jointly with the general council of the Trade Union Congress of Great Britain for presentation to the British government last September. Special emphasis is laid in the report on the following conclusions:

1. Development of Great Britain's trade with Canada must depend on acquiring new business at present in the hands of foreign countries, and development of new lines, and complementing and assisting the existing Canadian industries rather than competing with them; and on the investment of British capital in Canada.

2. Closer commercial and industrial association between the two countries will result in an improvement in the preferential position already enjoyed by Great Britain in the Canadian market.

PERSONAL CONTACT
Many of the complaints made by Canadian importers against British exporters of poor delivery and service are justified, and can only be remedied by closer and more personal contact, and a better appreciation of the local circumstances and requirements in Canada, the report says.

Prospective traders with Canada are urged to make the closest study of transportation conditions, tariff regulations, etc., in order to facilitate acceptance of British goods by Canadian importers.

TRADE COMMISSIONERS
Greater use should be made by the industry at home of the service of the British trade commissioners in Canada, and industrial organizations should co-operate to this end, the report adds.

Communications, especially telephone, should be made easier between Great Britain and Canada, and, if necessary, subsidized, it is recommended.

UNIFORM STATISTICS
Concerning statistics, the report declares uniformity of trade statistics as between all units of the empire is essential. Economic investigatory committees with a strong liaison between them should be established in each empire unit to study and draw conclusions from the statistics.

The British press, the report recommends, should exploit every opportunity to uphold and strengthen British prestige and so stimulate and support British trade throughout the world. Organized industry must assume the responsibility of dealing with all these matters, and the mission expresses the opinion the Federation of British Industries can take immediate action along the following lines:

1. Bringing trade groups together to study Canadian conditions and encourage the sending of trade representatives to Canada to discuss with Canadian manufacturers plans for complementary production in the two countries.

2. Initiating discussion with organizations interested in the subject of this report.

3. Setting up with such organizations joint committees for continued close study of empire trade.

OUR RAILROADS

IN HIS ATTACK UPON THE CANADIAN
National Railways in the House of Commons recently, Mr. J. T. Hackett, Conservative member for Stanstead, Quebec, said, "I am opposed to the government ownership of these lines. I am opposed to it because, in my opinion, it is not the function of government to engage in competitive commerce." Further in the same speech, Mr. Hackett declared that Parliament would have to curtail the rivalry between the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway or the latter would be forced to its knees.

The plain implication of Mr. Hackett's remarks is that he would curtail the rivalry between the two transportation systems by turning the government railways in whole or in part over to the private company. If they were turned over in whole, the public undoubtedly would be expected to continue to carry a large part of the capital load now charged against them. If they were turned over in part, only the profitable portions of the government system would go, the unprofitable sections being left with the public.

It might be possible, of course, eventually to find some other private interest with whom an arrangement could be made to take over the National Railways, but before anything of the kind could be done it would be necessary for the government to wipe out of the capitalization of the system many hundreds of millions of the deadweight, extending back for more than sixty years, now carried against it. But that would not curtail competition. On the contrary, if the Canadian National were in the hands of a private company independent of the C.P.R., the rivalry between the two systems would be at least as intense as it is now.

There is another aspect of the situation which does not appear to have struck those critics of the Canadian National Railways who oppose public ownership of this system, and that is the danger of foreign capital obtaining control of the entire transportation structure of the country if it were exclusively in private hands. What assurance would there be that Wall Street, for example, would not acquire such control in the same way that United States capital has secured control of so many other basic industries in the Dominion? The fact that less than a third of the stock of the C.P.R. is held now across the line is no guarantee against this possibility. Obviously it would not be good business for United States capital to attempt to control and operate a Canadian transportation system under present conditions in which it would be in competition with a system owned by the people of Canada. But if the Canadian National Railways were turned over to the C.P.R., for instance, how long would it be before gigantic financial interests in the United States would endeavor to secure control of the whole business? If they were successful, they would eventually own Canada. They already have more than three and three-quarter billions invested in Canadian industry. They bought up the White Star Steamship line, an old British concern, although the ships of that company remain under British register.

Opponents of government ownership of railroads appear to forget that it was the collapse of private transportation companies, chiefly the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific, some fourteen years ago, which forced this problem upon the government of Canada. These roads had to be taken over by Sir Robert Borden's administration to protect the credit of the country, the government declaring that whatever its views may be on the subject of public ownership of such utilities it had no alternative than to assume that responsibility. It was necessarily bound, too, to have those roads developed and operated efficiently, for the same reason, and they were later consolidated into one system and placed under the direction of Sir Henry Thornton. Admittedly this has proven a costly business for the country, but there was no alternative to that, either; if the vast national system had fallen under incompetent direction and had been permitted to deteriorate either in its management or material the cost would have been staggering.

There must be competition in transportation services in Canada. This is imperative in the interests of the country, which, in the absence of such competition, would have to pay infinitely more in innumerable ways than the Canadian National Railways cost. Those who imagine that there is a possibility of the establishment of a huge private transportation monopoly in the Dominion are cherishing a delusion which is little short of insanity. Such a condition not improbably would shatter the Canadian union, for private control of our transportation structure would mean private control of every aspect of Canadian life in a sense that would not be possible in any other country in the world, and every Canadian man, woman and child would be the subject of its directors. If that control were in the hands of Wall Street—which might very easily happen—our national economic independence would be lost.

Subsidiary to these larger considerations, competition in transportation is in the interests of the great utilities themselves. It keeps them on their toes, and stimulates their initiative and resourcefulness. It is, in fact, the oil which lubricates their whole enterprise. But it ought to be possible for the two major transportation concerns in Canada to get together and formulate policies which, while ensuring adequate service for the public, would eliminate wastefulness and unnecessary expenditure. This has been done in other competitive industries and there is no reason why it can not be done in the transportation field. Indeed, Ottawa dispatches intimate that it already is under way in many respects. Under existing circumstances this remains the best solution of our transportation problems. No private monopoly will be tolerated by the Canadian people, while Canada at this time is not in a position to establish a government monopoly, even if the public would permit it.

WHAT IS THIS?

AN ARTICLE IN THE SATURDAY EVENING Post headed "Over a High Health Hurdle," by Samuel G. Blythe, an eminent member of the editorial staff of that publication, has the following pregnant paragraph:

"Never eat starch with meat. Never eat starch with fruit. Never eat starch with anything but starch. Never eat white flour. Never eat case sugar. Never eat meat. Never eat any but green vegetables. Never eat anything but fruits and nuts. Do not eat anything at all for two weeks, or more or less. Never eat fruit save between meals. Never take a meal without bran in it. Never take bran. Never eat anything fried. And so on, interminably. The nevers of the food faddists, laid end to end, would reach from where this is written, at Pebble Beach, California, to Baffin Bay and back again as far as Frank Burd's house in Vancouver."

We are not concerned with Mr. Blythe's dicta on starch, sugar, meat, vegetables, fruit, nuts and bran, although we agree with all of them. We are concerned, however, with his reference to "Frank Burd's house in Vancouver." Brother Burd, who, by the way, happens to be the managing-director of The Vancouver Province, is well known as an admirable, influential citizen, an affable host and congenial companion, but it was news to us that he or his house had become so prominent a factor in a world of dietetics as to receive this oblique reference from so widely read an authority as Samuel G. Blythe.

It is possible, of course, that at some time Mr. Burd prescribed for Mr. Blythe a diet which enabled that veteran journalist to break 120 on his favorite golf course, but as far as we can learn the same treatment had no such stimulating effect upon Mr. Burd's game. It is even possible that the dicta we have quoted really originated with Mr. Burd and that Mr. Blythe feels he ought to acknowledge their origin by indirect implication. If that is so, British Columbia newspaperdom will rejoice in the fact that one of its outstanding representatives has contributed the most urgent problem of the day a delightfully clear and effective solution.

A YEAR WITH HAWLEY-SMOOT

AS THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE Hawley-Smoot tariff measure, which became law last June 17, draws near, anti-administration forces in the United States find themselves aided by Republican business men and industrialists, including such leaders as Mr. Henry Ford, Mr. Julius Barnes, former National Committeeman W. W. Atterbury, and many others prominent in finance and commerce who until comparatively recently have been considered staunch protectionists. It also is to be noted that several business groups enrolled in the United States Chamber of Commerce have assumed a political outlook which obviously is more in accord with that of the Democrats than the Republicans.

This change of attitude may be traced very largely, of course, to the serious decline in the foreign trade of the neighboring republic, and the part the Hawley-Smoot tariff has played in that decline. Recent statistics issued by Washington show that in the first four months of last year, when the tariff was before Congress, exports reached a value of $1,460,982,000 and imports accounted for $1,200,959,000. In the corresponding period of this year, however, exports had dropped in value to $926,679,000 and imports to $755,279,000—a decline in the former of $534,103,000 and in the latter of $455,680,000. And since there is only a difference between the last two totals of $98,423,000, the Democrats, or low-tariff party, contend they demonstrate clearly the connection between higher tariff walls and a smaller foreign market.

In a normal year the foreign trade of the United States may be put at approximately $10,000,000,000; so that in a third of the present calendar year, in which the full effect of the Hawley-Smoot tariff has been felt, the decline amounts to no less than $979,783,000, or at the rate of practically a third of the total for the twelve months. Some political observers in Washington, by the way, think the decline during the rest of the year will be much sharper than in the first four months, since the new duties imposed by the government at Ottawa in the recent budget are expected to play an important part in cutting down the outflow of goods. They put the cost of the Canadian tariff wall to American manufacturers at between $100,000,000 and $300,000,000 annually.

Judged by the various public utterances of the politicians as well as the business men of the republic, there is every indication that the predominant issue of the presidential campaign next year will be the tariff, with such questions as prohibition and other fruitful topics of discussion relegated to the background. In the meantime the Democrats are making as much political capital as possible, particularly out of the fact that in the nine months that the new Tariff Commission has been in office it has made only ten rate changes—three increases and seven decreases.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BEST DRESSED IN POORHOUSE
R.H.L. in Chicago Tribune

Charley Schweb says to the married ladies: "Spend all you can, never mind what your husband says; that is the best way to spread prosperity." And we will guarantee any lady that she will not only spread prosperity that way, but she can also be pretty sure that she'll be the best dressed woman in the poorhouse. And that's something.

ANOTHER VIEW OF SILVER
The Ottawa Citizen

While in Canada little doubt is being cast on the value of action to rehabilitate silver, a better informed opinion is being expressed in Great Britain. The British economic mission to the Far East, after a practical survey of the trade situation, has reported as follows:

In our opinion, every means should be sought of bringing about the stabilization of silver and so of restoring to China her full purchasing power. Great Britain is urged to take a leading part in endeavoring to secure an international agreement on this money measure. But it is possible that Canada is in a better position to bring about the agreement. The Senate at Washington has advised President Hoover to call an international conference. There is reason to believe that the Washington administration would welcome Canadian leadership.

A THOUGHT

Woe unto you that are rich—St. Luke vi 24.
Riches, honors and pleasures are the aways which destroy the mind's appetite for its heavenly food—Bishop Horne.

Loose Ends

Mayor Taylor says a mouthful—we try to pass the buck, but we come back—we effect a gratifying reform—and the United States Army is not appreciated.

By H. B. W.

MAYOR L. D. TAYLOR of Vancouver, who cut his political wisdom teeth half a century or so before many current politicians were born, has lately said something rather interesting. In proposing public works on a large scale to relieve unemployment, he said he was asked how the money for them would be raised. He replied that if there were a war to-morrow Canada would have no trouble in raising a billion dollars or more. To-day, he said, Canada is fighting an economic war against depression. In the face of such a situation Mr. Taylor doesn't see why Canada can't provide all the money necessary. So it could be, we were able to work up the same enthusiasm about peace as we do about war. If we tackled the job of beating depression as we tackled the job of winning the war, if we would spend as willingly in order that people might live as we did in order that they might get themselves killed, depression would be a thing of the past. The public can do just about anything if it can get enthusiastic enough about it. The trouble is that it often fails to get enthusiastic about the right things. And there is a glamour and excitement about killing people which is not to be found in merely feeding them.

ANOTHER PHASE of the unemployment problem which one finds interesting is the insistence of everyone that it is a national problem. No doubt it is. But it is not being called a national problem by municipal and provincial governments because it is a national problem. It is being called a national problem in the hope that it may be unloaded on the national government. Probably that's where it belongs, but the intriguing thing about it is the general sigh of relief with which provincial and municipal governments and the public generally hand it on to Ottawa; as if, having handed it on to Ottawa, they escaped it themselves. The most obvious fact about government in Canada, of course, is that if the Federal Government spends a dollar on unemployment we have to pay it just as surely as if the City Council spent it on buttering boulevard trees. Still, we always hope secretly that if we can only unload it upon the Federal Government somehow or other we can make money else pay more than his share, so that we can pay less than ours. Having unloaded it upon the Federal Government, we imagine we have escaped it because federal taxes in such forms as tariffs and excise charges are not as easily raised to the naked eye as Mr. Jones's income tax. Statisticians who are busy tracing the origin of man ought to consider the obvious influence of the ocean.

DISPATCHES to the newspapers tell of great joy among worthy people because certain tribes of Indians have given up the practice of potlaching and now celebrate according to white men's notions. How satisfactory it is to know that we are succeeding in reforming the Indian's morals, which is more than we can do with our own. In the northern part of British Columbia we have even stopped the Indians from raising totem poles—and wiped out their only art of carving almost entirely. Now the Indians save up about $500 and send it to white stores in Seattle or Eastern Canada, who carve them little stone totem poles for their graves; and even though these grave-stones, in Christian cemeteries, are decked with wicked heathen deities and devils, they are regarded by the authorities as a great achievement in white man's civilization. It is not that we have changed the character of the Indian inside the Indian, but we have made him alter his outside appearance; we have made him take his gods off wooden Indian totem poles and put them on more enduring and costlier white man's stone. It is a gratifying proof of our superiority. And having reduced the Indian to such a condition of wretchedness and servility that he means little or nothing to him, we are busy now forcing upon him a new set of white men's morals which he doesn't practice ourselves. Such is the Indian's natural ingratitude that we get no thanks for it, but it makes us feel very holy and that is satisfaction enough.

THE RECENT MANOEUVRES of the United States Army air force, in which over 600 airplanes went barnstorming across the country, have not been as well received as you would expect from a patriotic people. There has been widespread protest against them by persons who object to the United States Government spending large amounts of money to propagandize an army when, according to official estimates, there are about 6,000,000 men out of work in the country. To this Bishop Manning, one of the United States' chief theologians, ingeniously replied that these manoeuvres "were no more a demonstration for war than the police parade (in New York) was in promotion of crime." Well, if the parade of airplanes is no more successful in preventing war than the police of New York are in preventing crime, New York may expect to be bombed from on high at any moment. But the point of all this, of course, is that the United States Army, like every professional army, is naturally propagandizing itself. In these misguided times when people object to war, it has to show that it is a normal American who is capable of some slight mental process is that it won't come clean about its obvious purpose. But it would be ironic indeed, and typical of the wrong-headed public, if the manoeuvring of 600 airplanes over the cities of the United States, instead of propagandizing the army, made the public realize what the next war will be like when a similar number of machines are dropping real bombs. It would be typical of the wrong-headed public, indeed, if these demonstrations, instead of making it

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
JUNE 11, 1906
From The Times Files

The Fifth Regiment went into camp yesterday. The plains of Macaulay are dotted with rows of tents, set side by side with marked regularity. Back of these may be seen a number of marquees, where have been established the officers' quarters, the commissariat, and so forth.

Weather: Fair—Victoria and vicinity: Easterly winds; unsettled, with occasional rains.

The first annual rose show to be held under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society on Friday, June 22, promises to be a great success. The society has obtained the use of the Royal Cafe on Port Street. The location is a central one and very convenient.

The sailing schooner Jessie, Captain Haas, started Saturday from Behring Sea, being towed to Esquimaux preparatory to sailing for the West Coast to pick up an Indian crew.

In order to permit people in this section who so desire to make a flying visit to San Francisco to see the effects of the recent disaster, the Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific have put into effect a greatly reduced round trip rate.

SOVIET HEAR TRADE PACT WITH FRANCE

Closer Commercial and Even Political Relations Forecast in Paris

Profitable Employment of Frozen Capital Planned; France to Get Big Orders

New York, June 11.—There is every reason for believing that France is the point of entering into much closer commercial and even political relations with Soviet Russia than have heretofore existed, says a special cable from Paris to The New York Times. The cable states that an important Russian trade delegation headed by Serge Drovalsky has led to the disclosure that negotiations between the two nations have been going on quietly but effectively during the past two weeks and that sufficient progress has been made to warrant hope of a permanent trade pact.

Talks at Geneva between Aristide Briand and Maxim Litvinoff cleared away some of the obstacles. Further conversations have been held between Briand and Litvinoff, and the French Foreign Office also have contributed to a largely improved atmosphere.

While officials are maintaining a reserved attitude, well-informed diplomatic observers feel that it is entirely possible that the impending new trade pact will contain some of the provisions of the pact of economic non-aggression which M. Litvinoff proposed to the European commission at Geneva. This, of course, is still in the speculative stage, but it is known that substantial opinion in France favors such a plan.

CREDIT ARRANGEMENT LIKELY
What is almost certain, however, is that the pact, if it materializes, will contain a credit agreement providing for the financing of long-term Soviet credits with which Moscow could purchase machinery and other needed products from France. French financial and industrial leaders would thus strive to draw to this country a large share of orders which the Soviet trade organizations are about to place abroad.

Such a scheme, it is thought here, would also find profitable and reasonably safe employment for a part of France's huge store of frozen capital, frequently estimated as high as 100,000,000 francs ($40,000,000). It is suggested that the French credit arrangements might not be unlike those which are being simultaneously in force for a credit of $150,000,000 from Japanese banks for financing Soviet orders for ships, machinery, electrical equipment and railway supplies.

Industrialists explain that the initiative for the present Franco-Soviet negotiations came from Moscow and not from Paris, as some have indicated. Nevertheless, the French business world is strongly in favor of a trade accord.

The issue was thoroughly considered on Tuesday at a Congress of the President of French chambers of Commerce, at which 120 chambers were represented. Although they did not adopt a formal resolution, the chambers unanimously endorsed the negotiations and expressed the hope that they would end soon in a strong pact. The lack of such a treaty—France at present carries on her commercial relations with Russia by means of a modus vivendi—has caused the Russians to cut their French orders to the lowest minimum, or less than half the French imports from Russia.

DUMPING MENACE INVOLVED
Involved in the negotiations is the matter of the Soviet dumping menace, which has been the subject of several drastic French decrees. It is understood that the Russians have offered guarantees on this subject which on their face appear to be satisfactory.

Regarding the pre-war Russian debt to France, separate conversations have been conducted, although, in this the progress appears to have been much less advanced.

As a significant preliminary to the suggested pact it is reported that the Russians have already indicated the extent of the orders they would place in France, while at least one large French company is negotiating for the purchase of large amounts of crude oil. The Russians are fortunate in the moment they have chosen for the negotiations, for the prospect of large orders from Moscow is a pleasing one to French industry already severely hit by the world depression.

Politically speaking, some observers think the negotiations are equally well timed from the French point of view inasmuch as they coincide with the German move for closer relations with Great Britain. Henry Berenger, former ambassador to Washington, writing in this week's Actualites, reminds the Germans and the British that "the mysterious reorganization of Russia's new program should convince Germany and Britain that the two nations cannot solve this and other world problems without the collaboration of Paris, Washington and finally Geneva."

REFORM MOVE IS LAUNCHED

Platform of "Non-party" Group Explained at Chamber of Commerce Meeting

Form Branches in Other Parts of Province; Seek Provincial Control

With an open house meeting at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening, the Government Reform Movement against party rule was launched yesterday evening. The platform was explained with the warning that adherence to the cause would not mean a government job if the movement was successful.

Branches of the "non-party" party are in formation also at Vancouver, Duncan, Kelowna, Port Fraser and other places, it was stated. It plans to operate as a party until wresting control of the government from existing powers and then would work out its final policy at a provincial convention.

Following is the platform:

- "1. To use every endeavor to destroy the party system as it exists, and encourage complete reformation."
- "2. Constituencies to select outstanding citizens of proved integrity and ability."
- "3. Complete independence of all members to vote as they think best. The fact that a government measure does not meet with the approval of the House to cause no resignations. The abolition of the caucus."
- "4. Reduction of salaries and number of ministers holding portfolios."
- "5. Departments to be run by competent heads, responsible to the Cabinet."
- "6. The Civil Service to be reorganized, graded, and made permanent."
- "7. No civil servant at present in office to be discharged to make room for supporters of this movement, civil servants to retain their positions except in case of incompetence or the abolition of the office which said civil servant may hold."

CONTINUOUS SESSIONS
"8. The Legislature to be in session all the time with a long vacation in the summer, otherwise meeting for a month in the winter and then monthly for a period of from three to six consecutive days, as the business before the House may warrant."

"9. Except in cases where a special committee is required, all bills to be submitted to a committee of the whole House."

"10. All money voted to be itemized and submitted to the House for approval."

"11. Reduction of expenditure and a consequent reduction in the tax levies with special regard to the man or woman with limited means."

"12. The abolition of death duties in the near future and the cancellation of increased income tax levied by the present government."

"13. The term of Legislature to be reduced to three years. Every member elected to the Provincial House to be subject to recall by his constituents."

J. Walton of the Sidney Lumber Company presided over the meeting, supported on the platform by T. Guy Sheppard, president; C. E. Woodward, vice-president; Dr. Clem Davies and Fred Cousins.

The movement, it was explained, was created by the plain people against party government. Mr. Walton expressed the hope that it would spread across Canada. It aimed to curtail costs and eliminate waste.

"We are not Conservative malcontents, contented Liberals or Holy Rollers," said Mr. Sheppard, "although it is true we hope to roll the party system off the map." He attacked expenditures of the present provincial administration.

Mr. Woodward explained the platform of the movement which, he said, was only provisional and could be drafted at a province-wide convention.

"Party politics are wrong, whatever may be right these days," said Dr. Davies. "The government belongs to the people and we are tired of having its policies directed by a few men behind the scenes."

Mr. Cousins predicted an era of prosperity if the movement succeeded.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Rangoon, Burma, June 11.—Twelve natives were sentenced to death to-day and twenty-six others to prison for life for complicity in uprisings against the government in the Tharavaddy District. A special tribunal sitting in the cases acquitted four others and discharged one. A Buddhist monk was among those given life sentences.

CHILDREN'S ART EXHIBIT OPENED THIS AFTERNOON

Hundreds of Drawings and Paintings on Show at the Crystal Garden Gallery

Hundreds of drawings and paintings done by Victoria grade school children are on exhibition this afternoon at the Crystal Garden Art Gallery, and will remain for public inspection till Saturday. The gallery is open in the afternoon only, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Work with pencil and brush is being well done, if the exhibition is any criterion. It is both varied and representative. All schools and all grades have sent in something, and though the achievement of grade 8 pupils is, for the most part, naturally better than that of lower grades, there is lots of promise in the contributions of the younger children.

The actual hanging of the drawings and paintings follows a fixed order. Grades are grouped together, and also the various types. To be noticed along the walls is work based on surface patterns from leaves, plain pencil drawing, object drawing, period costumes, Christmas cards, pencil announcements, painted placards and advertisements, flowers, original designs from plant forms and butterflies, hemispherical and rectangular objects (such as hats and trunks), original designs for book-marks and blotter corners, animals, birds, figures of human beings and calendars. The prevalence of airplanes among the exhibits is an indication of the hold the mechanical birds have on the youth's fancy.

People who wish to know what young people are doing should make a point of attending the exhibition, for undoubtedly great pains have been taken by children, teachers and officials in arranging the display.

PHARMACISTS NAME HEADS

Fred. J. Boles, Vancouver, Elected President of B.C. Body at Session Here

J. Riddell, Victoria, was named councillor for electoral district No. 2, at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Pharmaceutical Association here yesterday.

Fred J. Boles of Vancouver was elected president and councillor for No. 1; J. Riddell, Victoria, for No. 2, and A. Galloway for No. 3. R. H. McDuffee was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Following the meeting, which was held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, and at which matters of interest only to druggists were discussed, the delegates from the mainland were entertained at a golf tournament and an automobile drive around the city and district.

In the evening the delegates were guests at a supper dance at the Empress Hotel.

NORFOLK HOUSE STAGES SPORTS

A varied programme of events was listed in the annual Norfolk House school sports yesterday afternoon on the grounds between Victoria and Runnymede Avenues, which were secured through the kindness of Mrs. H. Ross, Stanley Holmes and L. L. Herchmer, acted as judges, and Major Garrard as starter. Miss D. Atkins, the headmistress, presented the prizes. Results were:

100 yards (14½ and over)—1, Elizabeth Garrett; 2, H. Douglas.
100 yards (12½ to 14½)—1, Charmaine Brown; 2, Joan Forbes.

Shower Given For Miss Jenny Wilson

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, June 11.—A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Jenny Wilson Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Weston, Pine Street. Miss Wilson is to be married in the near future to Mr. William Eitinger, Vancouver. The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion with mauve streamers and pink rosebuds forming the background of a bridal chair. To the strains of the wedding march little Florence Grassick and Arthur Spencer, dressed as bride and groom, wheeled in a rose-garlanded cradle with baby Ted Little making a smiling Cupid among the many parcels which were presented to the bride. Games were indulged in followed by refreshments.

One of the strangest wills on record is that of M. Auguste Paquet, who had engraved on a leaf of one of his chairs.

"CLOVERDALE" SCENE OF FETE

Mrs. S. F. Tolmie Opened Garden Party Held By King's Daughters

"Cloverdale," the lovely old home of Premier and Mrs. Tolmie, with its charming garden, furnished the setting for the garden party held by the members of the King's Daughters, which, despite the uncertainty of the weather, drew a large crowd of visitors.

The event was formally opened by Mrs. Tolmie, who extended a warm welcome to the visitors and members of the order, in whose benevolent work she expressed the keenest interest. A bouquet was presented to Mrs. Tolmie by Mrs. L. H. Hardie, district president of the King's Daughters, who received the patrons, among whom were many representatives of women's organizations.

During the afternoon a special feature of the fete was the instrumental music rendered by the Victoria Girls' Band.

Donations in cash were received from a number of the visitors, among whom was the Premier, who returned from the open day of the Victoria city schools, accompanied by a party of friends, in time to lend his patronage to the garden fete.

One of the popular attractions was the programme of dance numbers presented by Cecily Moore, who was assisted by Gladys Harrison and Shirley Anderson, pupils of Miss Violet Foxwell, and Highland dances by Adeline Grant.

Tea was served at tables arranged on the lawn, the arrangements being in the hands of Mrs. J. McElfrish, Mrs. A. T. Harvey, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. A. M. Perry, Mrs. H. D. Brumpton, Miss G. and Mrs. Sharpe, and the Misses Helena Ward, Doreen Dodsford, Marjorie Dodsford, Agnes Spaven, Alma Hoare, Doris Boniface and Jean Brown.

Other attractions were directed as follows: Home cooking, Mesdames W. C. Cameron, H. Dorrell, W. M. Allan, H. Ward and E. M. Haynes; ice cream, Mrs. C. Elliott and Miss B. Peirce; balloons and clock golf, Misses Kathleen Roberts, Amy Conyers, E. Clearhead and Jessie Gordon; Mrs. R. A. Braden and Mrs. Lord; and the tea tickets, and Mrs. W. Russell and Mrs. Watson presided over the gate receipts.

REV. W. ELLIOTT WED YESTERDAY

A wedding of interest in church circles was celebrated yesterday, Wednesday, June 10, at 2 p.m., when the Rev. William Elliott, B.A., and Mrs. Martha Williamson Hyde, both of Victoria, were united in marriage by the Rev. James Hood, pastor of Belmont Avenue United Church. A close friend of the bridegroom. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, Mrs. Hawley, 665 Foster Street, Esquimalt, with a few intimate friends present. After refreshments had been served, the happy couple left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, and then to Portland, to visit sisters of the groom. On their return to the city they will reside in Esquimalt.

MISS E. JACOBS MADE PRESIDENT

Jewish Women's Conference in Vancouver Ended Yesterday

Vancouver, B.C., June 11.—Miss Edna Jacobs of Portland, Ore., was elected president of the next western inter-state conference of the National Council of Jewish Women, to be held in Portland in 1934, at the final meeting of the 1931 conference here today.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Florence Wolfstein, Los Angeles, first vice-president; Mrs. Harry Gebel, San Francisco, second vice-president; Mrs. John Danz, Seattle, third vice-president; and Mrs. H. Friedman, Edmonton, Alta., treasurer.

Among resolutions adopted by the conference was one stating that the conference will co-operate with the National Council of Jewish Women in promoting the extension of kindergarten sections. Another resolution asked that a speaker be sent to Calgary, Alta., by the national council, once a year. The national council was asked to outline a programme which would be of more benefit to the smaller sections than the one already existing.

Ten Postponed—The Graduate Nurses' Association is for June 13 has been postponed until a later date.

Miss Inez Ker, who has been visiting in Vancouver as the guest of Miss Frances Bennett on her way home from Seattle, returned to Victoria yesterday.

SUNSHINE CAMP BRIDGE PARTY

Affair Will Be Held at Home of Miss Agnew, Rockland Ave.

"Schunuum," the home of Miss Agnew, Rockland Avenue, will be the scene to-morrow afternoon of a bridge party for the two weeks' outing they are allowed at the camp.

A capable staff has been engaged to take charge of the camp, with Miss Moore as "camp mother."

As the camp is in charge can only keep the camp open as long as there are funds on hand, it is hoped that many Victorians will avail themselves of this opportunity to contribute to this branch of the work of the Social Service League.

Those wishing to secure tables may do so by telephoning the Social Service League.

Rebekah Lodge—Came Rebekah Lodge, No. 45 will hold their regular monthly meeting to-morrow, Friday, June 12. At the conclusion of the business part of the meeting, a "hard times" dance will be held for which a prize will be given for the most original costume. There will also be cards for non-dancers. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance of Rebekah, Oddfellows and their friends.

Group Photo Will Be Taken—For the benefit of the members of the Victoria Ladies' Choir who were not in attendance at the recent banquet, notice is given that a group photo will be taken at the door at the entrance to the Victoria High School on Saturday afternoon, June 13, at 3 o'clock, should it rain on Saturday, the date of meeting will be postponed one week.

LADIES' CHOIR HOLDS BANQUET

Dinner Followed By Musical Programme Ends Season's Activities

As a windup for the season, the Victoria Ladies' Choir held a banquet at the New Thought Temple Hall last Tuesday evening. Mrs. F. E. Bernat, as a convener of the social committee, was assisted in the carrying out of the evening's programme by various sub-committees.

Mrs. A. B. McNeill, with a committee consisting of Mrs. W. Dinamore, Mrs. J. Berwick, Mrs. Grant and Miss Morais, directed the catering arrangements. The decorating being in charge of Mrs. D. L. McLaughlin and Mrs. J. Hobden, while Mrs. J. V. Weston had charge of the card tables.

FLYING EYES!

A well-known aviator said: "I should say that the eyes were ninety-five per cent of a flier's equipment. They need to look back in the war, about the inner-ear drum and the effect on a flier's sense of balance, but now I think that most attention is paid to good eyesight in picking a transport pilot."

What is true of the eyes in flying is relatively true of the eyes in all sports and every vocation.

GARDEN FETE AT ESQUIMALT

Women's Institute Sponsored Successful Affair Yesterday

Despite the unsettled weather the garden fete held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Esquimalt Women's Institute at the residence of Mrs. W. Booth, Esquimalt Road, was well attended and was a great success.

Mrs. Sutherland Brown, who performed the opening ceremony, was presented with a lovely bouquet of gladioli and roses by Kenneth Douglas, the little son of Mrs. W. Douglas, on behalf of the institute.

Delicious afternoon tea was served by Mesdames McLean, Stewart, Bradley and Douglas. A stall of home cooking was presided over by Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Cresine. Mrs. Holligan and Mrs. Pocock displayed an attractive collection of needlework and novelties. Ice cream and candies were in charge of Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. J. Roger.

Mrs. Mead was kept busy dispersing the contents of the bran tub, and Mrs. McDuff was at the seat of customs. In the various competitions the winners were: Chicken, Mrs. Booth; boudoir cushion, Mrs. J. M. Matheson; box of candies, Mrs. L. Scott; dressed doll, Mrs. Drummond; sack of sugar, Mrs. J. M. Matheson.

HAPPINESS IN MARRIED LIFE IS ANALYZED

U.S. Physicians Report on Inquiries Among Thousand Cultured Women

Find Hundreds of Typical Wives Are Unhappily Mated

Philadelphia, Pa., June 11.—Happiness in the married life of 1,000 cultured United States women, as analyzed by their personal physicians, was presented at the American Medical Association meeting yesterday.

It showed that glum experiences, taboos and training often thwart or destroy capacity for marital happiness; and that about half of the 770 "typical wives" in this group are unhappily mated. The report was made by Dr. Robert L. Dickinson, M.D., of New York City.

"These 1,000," he said, "were what may be called the cultural United States type. They were urban, of good family background and educated. Married to professional men of moderate income, each with one or two children, they were considered socially normal in the ordinary relationships of work and life."

"They had an average of 161 children per 100 women. The typical woman had her first child at the age of about twenty-six, and wanted more. When she was widowed, the divorced and the recently wed were excluded, 770 remained as typical wives."

Answers to questions about happiness were distributed about fifty-fifty. Three hundred and sixty-five made no complaints; thirty sometimes answered yes and sometimes no; 375 said definitely that they were unhappy.

As causes of unhappiness, Dr. Dickinson found that complaints about relatives, money, work, management of children and the home usually were secondary. Among the dissatisfied he found in many instances evidence of "some shock in childhood related to the sex side of life."

"The effect of extensive educational and social training," he said, "is to intensify the cultural taboos of fear and avoidance of sex expression."

LADY INVERCLYDE SEEKING DIVORCE

Former Stage Favorite Wants to Part From Multi-millionaire Husband

Hollywood, Cal., June 11.—The picture behind the domestic difficulties of Lord and Lady Inverclyde as she sees it was revealed last night in a discussion by her of her suit for divorce she recently filed in Reno, Nevada.

Lord Inverclyde is a multi-millionaire executive of the Cusumam Steamship Company and his wife was a stage favorite in New York and London. Her presence in this country has led to reports that she would wed Lethar Mendez, film director, if the divorce is granted, but although she denied this, she said she wanted to remarry.

"I want happiness, a home and children," she said. "Lord Inverclyde will not give me a divorce, nor will he consent to an annulment of our marriage. He informed me he doesn't want ever to marry again himself, so what need is there for a divorce?"

"A Reno divorce, or a divorce in any other country for that matter outside Great Britain, is not recognized by England, more particularly because my husband is a peer." If she decides to remarry she will apply for a citizenship papers in the United States.

LONDON ACCLAIMS
CANADIAN GIRL

London, June 11.—Musical critics spoke highly to-day of the debut of Miss Odette de Foras, who comes from the Canadian west, as "Princess Turandot" in Puccini's Turandot at Covent Garden last night.

"It is a long road from a Canadian ranch to the centre of the stage at Covent Garden," said The Daily Express, "but Miss Odette de Foras accomplished the journey last night to the credit of the empire."

"She was nervous at first but after a faltering beginning she grew more and more effective as the night progressed. It was a night of triumph for Odette de Foras," commented The Morning Post.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MARY ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer any questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

The tendency of mothers to experiment with an infant's feeding is always terrifying. It takes so little to upset a tiny baby, and many mothers, even those who have fed other babies, are woefully ignorant of what a child needs for perfect growth.

The most frightening tendency is to experiment when the baby is vomiting constantly. If it were not so commonplace for mothers to jump wildly from one type of food to another while the baby grows progressively more undernourished and less able to stand up under these changes, these constant warnings would be unnecessary. The baby who vomits breast milk and every type of formula may not be able to digest his food because the food itself is indigestible, but because his stomach is so formed that it will not allow any food to pass from the stomach into the intestine or to be distributed throughout the body.

WOMEN AND HARMFUL VOMITING

There are harmless types of vomiting, such as any well-fed or over-fed baby is likely to exhibit. One bothers very little about this if the baby is happy and gaining, provided he does not spit up too much. Excessive spitting up means that he is fed too often, that his food is too rich or there is too much of it, and we go about making the changes that will end the vomiting. But mothers should take notice when vomiting ceases to be just this overflow of a full tummy, when it is constant.

and is present, regardless of the food. Then the vomiting is serious and the mother should take the baby to a doctor who knows why he is giving a formula, and what it is expected to accomplish.

EXPERT ADVICE ESSENTIAL

My leaflet on "Vomiting" describes the various types so that a mother may recognize them. This serious type of vomiting is called a stricture of the pylorus, a defect in the formation of the stomach. This type has very little relation to the digestibility of food. We know of one such case in which the mother persistently nursed her baby, even though five minutes afterwards he vomited, with a gush, all that she had fed him. Clinging stubbornly to breast feeding and refusing to look beyond the end of her nose, she allowed the baby to starve to death, all because she insisted that breast milk was the perfect food and if he could not take that, he could not take anything.

The point I want to impress upon mothers in trying to correct the serious type of vomiting is that the food is not at fault, but the malformation of the stomach; and such persistent vomiting needs expert not amateur experimentation to decide what type of food, thick or concentrated, or what sort of medicinal or even surgical aid may be necessary to enlarge this constricted opening and allow the baby to get the benefit of the food he is taking.

COOKING CLASSES FOR YOUNG GIRLS

Strawberry Vale Women's Institute Seek Names From Those Interested

Cooking classes for girls were considered at the regular monthly meeting of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held at Colquhoun Hall Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. M. Foster, occupant of the chair. A quantity of correspondence and much important business occupied the attention of the members.

The possibilities of a class to teach girls over thirteen years of age, cooking and baking, was discussed, with a view to sending the two girls adjudged the best to take part in the girls' judging competition at the fall fair in Vancouver. Unfortunately there is not time enough for lessons to allow beginners to compete in August, but the institute would like to have the names of any girls interested, so as to get a good start made in the fall with as many as possible.

Arrangements are being made to have a speaker address the next meeting on "Institute Work and Method." The basketball game at Strawberry Vale Hall have been discontinued for the summer months, but will be resumed in September.

The treasurer gave a very gratifying report, and the members greatly appreciate the donation of $12 given by Miss Marjorie and Miss Gertrude Foster to the funds of the institute. The subscription to the League of Nations Society was renewed.

By courtesy of the Department of Agriculture the institute will again give books as prizes to the pupils of Strawberry Vale School for the best specimens of penmanship.

No woman should risk unknown substitutes for Kotex

There's health risk in cheaply-made pads of questionable hygienic purity

THERE'S one time to be cautious—that's when you hear the expression, "just like Kotex."

How do you know it's just like Kotex? Who stands back of it? Where was it made? How? By whom? Is it, like Kotex, used by hospitals from coast to coast?

Kotex is safe

Those words, "just like Kotex", mean much more, you see, than surface resemblance. It's easy to make a pad that looks like Kotex. Far, far harder to make one that meets the rigid Kotex standards of purity, of cleanliness, of perfect hygienic safety.

After all, why take chances? You know Kotex is safe. It is treated to deodorize. It is adjustable. Last year millions of pads were used by hospitals alone—their choice of Kotex should be your guide.

Kotex may cost a few pennies more than some questionable substitute, of whose makers you know nothing. But those few cents guarantee a product that meets your personal ideals of cleanliness, as well as hygienic safety.

Perfect comfort

You are entirely at ease with Kotex. Careful shaping, for comfort and inconspicuous lines. Super-softness... that lasts... because Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding, which absorbs scientifically, away from the surface. The gauze which covers the Cellucotton is specially treated to make it amazingly soft.

Local Team in Pacific Coast League Would Be Good Move
New Club Should Get Whole-hearted Support of Soccer Fans
Balloon Golf Ball Gets Cold Reception in Great Britain
American League Clubs Moaning Over Runaway of Athletics

THE PROPOSAL to organize a Pacific Coast League football team, looks like a good move. With the right man behind the team, a good executive and a first-class manager, and last but not least, some good players, a club of this nature should prove popular with Victoria football fans. All last season fans talked about a local team in this major circuit and the possibility of getting one.

If the plans go through and Victoria does get a franchise, then the fans and other clubs in this city should put their shoulders to the wheel and help the new team in every way. The coast team will need the support of all the other local eleven if it is going to be a success. Victoria has plenty of good football players who, if properly coached and trained, could hold their own with anything in the Province, and that means the Dominion. It is a long time since a Victoria football team won a British Columbia championship or any other major title. Why not start?

United States golfers, at least a great many of them, are making a determined effort to get rid of the balloon ball introduced at the beginning of the year. Nobody but the officials of the United States Golf Association and the manufacturers appear to have any use for the new pellet. The poor little defenceless ball has been given a cold reception by everybody.

One of the sidelights of the recent British Open tournament at Carnoustie was the friendly reception received by the new sphere. Gene Sarazen, famous U.S. golfer, says the ball made no friends in Great Britain. "On Carnoustie's golf-swept links it would be suicidal to championship aspirations to use the balloon ball," says Gene. As far as the average golfer is concerned he wouldn't break 100.

Sarazen went to England prepared to give the new ball a thorough tryout. He practiced with it a while until he became convinced of its unsuitability. Sarazen's big objection to the ball is that it doesn't hold the greens. Sarazen thinks the different models of golf balls authorized for competitive use in Great Britain and the United States will have a detrimental effect on international golf. With golf a world game, as indicated by the international field in the British Open, Sarazen thinks that one standardized ball should be in use in all countries.

Moans are beginning to be heard from the American League. It's all on account of the Philadelphia Athletics. The Mackmen are going at a faster clip than anything they've known in the first half of the 1931 season and some of the other teams in the younger baseball circuit fear that Connie's outfit will knock the season for a financial and competitive fizzle.

However, let the moaning cease, even if it does look like the National League will again have all the better of it in so far as a keen struggle for the flag is concerned. Time and nature, injuries and the law of averages, they all get in their ticks, and they have already started work on the A's this season. Not that it seems likely that Mack's squad and some of the other teams in the younger baseball circuit fear that Connie's outfit will knock the season for a financial and competitive fizzle.

Mack has been forcing his team at top speed. He has been pressing his pitchers as if the end of the season was near. He has been in baseball too long to take anything for granted and to pay too much attention to the standing of the teams in June. For example, he had Cochrane in two double-headers over one week-end.

Mack is determined to achieve two goals. First, his third successive world championship; second, a record for victories in one season. He thinks his A's have it in them to match the performance of the Chicago Cubs of 1906, who won 116 games. There may be a race yet. Don't overlook the power of the New York Yankees and Washington.

Two Goals Late In Game Give Saints Victory Over Shore

Vancouver, June 11.—Banging in two goals in the last ten minutes, to break a one-all tie, St. Salvators defeated North Shore United, 3 to 1, at Connaught Park yesterday evening in a first round Dominion championship soccer football game. North Shore, Vancouver, and District League first division champions, led their own until that last rush, when the Coast League representatives rallied in two markers.

Miss Wilson Defeats Mrs. Greenless, Scotland, 3 and 1 and Miss Morgan Accounts for Molly Gourlay 1 Up; in Quarter Finals Miss Wilson Defeated Elsie Corlett 5 and 4 and Miss Morgan Conquered Miss Jameson 6 and 5; British Women Keep Fine Record

Portmarnock, Ireland, June 11.—Enid Wilson, English champion, and Wanda Morgan, also of England, to-morrow will play for the British women's golf title. Miss Wilson to-day defeated Mrs. R. Greenless, Scotland, 3 and 1, and Miss Morgan won from Molly Gourlay, 1 up. In the quarter finals this morning Miss Wilson defeated Elsie Corlett, fellow country-woman, who defeated Miss Maureen O'neill, United States contender, in easy fashion, 5 and 4. The deadly putting Miss Corlett had on display yesterday to defeat Miss O'neill was lost overnight and she was no match for the British champion.

BIG TRACK MEET HERE IS PLANNED

Good Programme Lined Up For Diamond Jubilee Celebration on July 20

Outside Competition Expected in Different Races; List of Events Announced

Track and field stars of Victoria, Vancouver Island, and possibly the mainland, will gather in the city for the first big open meet of the season on July 20. It was announced by the committee in charge of the affair this morning. It will be in connection with the Diamond Jubilee celebrations.

To add an international flavor to the meet, special races will be held for members of the crew of the U.S.S. Idaho. Staged under the auspices of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration committee, the programme will include centry, furling and quarter-mile sprints, half-mile and mile runs, broad and high jumps and shot put. These events will be open to all amateur competitors and are expected to draw a representation from Vancouver as well as U.P. island points.

Century and furling dashes for Greater Victoria Juniors, under the age of eighteen, are also billed, along with special school relays and events for the navy. The committee in charge is composed of Percy Watson, Arthur Manson, W. S. Maguire, James Downs and Archie McKinnon. Early school meets this year have disclosed a promising bunch of young athletes ready to make their bows in open competition this summer. Several of them did far to take good places in higher company and should lend new color to the rapidly improving track teams of the city.

Entry forms will be sent to athletic clubs of the lower mainland and the island shortly.

FISHING BULLETIN

The weekly fishing bulletin for Vancouver Island waters as compiled by Bureau of Fisheries and Island Publicity is now ready.

Steelhead—It is now steelhead time on the west coast of Vancouver Island. These fish run from seven to ten pounds in weight and are as pugnacious as Scotch salmon. Good fishing on the Stamp and Sprout Rivers, Methods, fly and wading. Poles necessary. Grilse—Not so good this week, although some fish have been taken. Methods, trolling with very light tackle and occasionally fly. Salmon—Beginning to run well in Brentwood Bay, off Qualicum and at Comox; weights twenty-five to thirty-five pounds. Methods, trolling deep and also some on fly. Trout—Good trolling in Cowichan Lake, Cameron Lake and Sprout Lake. Fair fly fishing on Cowichan River, good on Little Qualicum from mouth to falls and from falls to Cameron Lake. Also at Taylor Arm on Sprout Lake and on Sprout River and Campbell River. Some fish weight over three pounds. Species, cutthroat, rainbow, lake trout and Dolly Varden. Methods, fly and trolling from bank or boat, or wading. Sea trout—Good on and off, at mouth of Big Qualicum, in Rocky Harbor and at mouth of Oyster River. Methods, fly, light troll or spinner; boat or wading. Sea bass—Good catches off Victoria Harbor and from breakwater. Methods, minnow, small silver spinner or bait; but skin.

Fishing regulations—License for season for visitors $10, or $1 per day up to ten days. Daily limit for trout fifteen; salmon species, five. No fish under eight inches to be taken from the river. Salmon roe is illegal.

In the final game of the first half of the schedule the Navy and View Royal football teams will meet at the Canteen grounds at 6:30 o'clock.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Toronto, 5, Buffalo, 16.
Montreal, 4-7, Rochester, 2-5.
Jersey City, 4, Baltimore, 5.
Reading-Hewark, rain.

Wanda Morgan defeated Miss P. Jameson, one of the two Irish women, 6 and 5, and Molly Gourlay defeated Miss Dorothy Pimm, the other hope of the Emerald Isle, 3 and 2. It was Miss Pimm who put out Miss Fishwick in the third round yesterday.

The other semi-finalist, Mrs. R. Greenless, defeated Mrs. R. O. Porter, 6 and 4. The British women have so far been able to keep their championship in the possession of a home player, although Englishmen have always experienced trouble protecting their titles from residents of the United States. For many years Joyce Wethered was the stumbling block to United States women, and even although she has retired from the field other young players have come forward to keep the crown in the possession of a home player. Glenna Collett, most famous of U.S. women golfers, made several attempts to lift the British title but was always turned back.

FIGHTER DIES AFTER BEING KNOCKED OUT

S. Sargent, Vancouver Wash., Boxer Dead After Bout With Peter Meyers Never Regained Consciousness; Hemorrhages of the Brain Fatal

Portland, Ore., June 11.—Stanley Sargent, Vancouver, Wash., middleweight, died yesterday from injuries received during a boxing match with Peter Meyers, San Francisco, here Tuesday night. Acting Coroner Roy L. Crabtree has ordered an inquest for Friday and District Attorney Lotus L. Langley said no charge would be filed against Meyers or his manager, Burt Gilbert, unless the coroner's jury recommended further action. Meyers and Gilbert are reported to be in Portland until after the inquest.

Dr. Charles H. Manlove, who performed an autopsy, reported that Sargent came to his death from multiple lacerations of the brain and subarachnoid hemorrhages of the brain. Dr. Manlove said he found no sign of skull fracture.

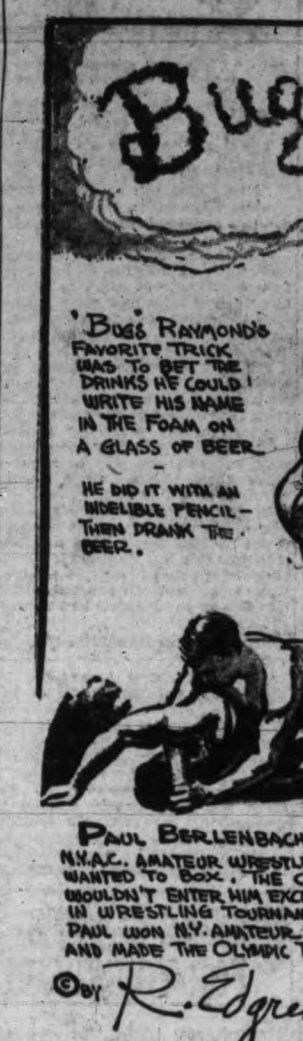

Sargent was knocked down from a left in the fifth round of the last six-round bout on the card. He got up and after a short count and Meyers flattened him with a straight right. Sargent fell backward and his head hit the floor outside the mat. He was taken to a hospital unconscious.

Milwaukee to Get Hockey Franchise In American Loop

Milwaukee, Wis., June 11.—Three Milwaukee sports men said to-day that arrangements have practically been completed for the introduction of American league hockey here next winter. Bill Grant, president of the league, said a franchise had been given to Johnny Parquhar, former University of Wisconsin hockey coach. The board of directors of the Milwaukee auditorium voted to permit installation of a rink in the building for use of the league team.

New York, June 11.—Through mud and rain, Fredrick M. Burch's Tamboor, 13 to 20 favorite, to win the Belmont race yesterday. The 13-year-old gelding, owned by the Belmont family, won the race in a time of 2:20.5. A length back, gradually wearing the winner down, followed A. C. Roswick's Seattle. Another few lengths to the rear trailed Walter M. Jefford's Altes Vite, three lengths in front of Blind Lane, which was fourth and last.

Selection Of Local All-star Football Team Is Postponed

Eleven to Meet Touring English Players Here on June 24 Will Not Be Picked Until Next Week; Charlie Lewis's Appointment as Manager Not Questioned at Meeting Yesterday; Arrangements Discussed for Entertainment of Tourists; Local Players Hoping to Make Good Showing

Selection of the Victoria all-star football team to oppose the touring English Football Association players here on June 24 was postponed until next week at a meeting of the Lower Island Football Association held yesterday evening at the Y.M.C.A. The members of the new board discussed the naming of the representative team but finally decided to leave the definite selection until the next meeting.

At the suggestion of The Times, Charlie Lewis, manager of the two all-star teams which have engaged in trial matches, made a selection, and it appeared in yesterday evening's issue of The Times. This selection was discussed by the board, and although the members objected to the action of the manager, no action was taken.

This morning Lewis protested against certain remarks in the morning press to the effect that a manager has not been named for the local eleven. "I was officially appointed manager of the Victoria team at a meeting last year," he said.

At yesterday evening's meeting no objections were raised to Mr. Lewis's appointment.

FANS INTERESTED
Great interest reigns among the fans over the selection of the local eleven. Many letters have been written to the press by dyed-in-the-wool fans who have picked teams which they think should represent this city. Others have criticized the manner in which the team is being picked, and greater interest is being shown over this team than any previous one.

Although the Victoria boys have not the slightest hope of beating the Old Country stars, who are piling up a string of victories on their jaunt across Canada, they are determined to keep the score as close as possible. Victoria teams have always put up a good fight against teams from Great Britain, and they are out to maintain their reputation.

At yesterday evening's meeting preliminary plans were made for the entertainment of the Englishmen during their four-day visit in Victoria. The tourists will arrive here on Sunday, June 21, and will remain until June 24, when they will sail for Vancouver on their return trip across Canada.

The complete lower island board for the next twelve months follows:
Charles V. Milton, president; James Pettigrew, vice-president; J. R. Jones, secretary-treasurer; John Ewing, John Sullivan and F. Abrahams on the executive.

RAIN HALTS BOAT
A New Haven, Conn., June 11.—The Regatta between crews representing the J.B.A.A. and Brentwood College scheduled to take place at Brentwood Saturday afternoon has been postponed indefinitely. The Collegians requested that the J.B.A.A. rowing committee cancel it as they have had several mishaps with their shells in recent workouts.

TO ENCOURAGE THE BOYS
To the Sports Editor:—One of the main objects of a tour undertaken by a game is to give the boys a practical education. This being the case those in charge of the present tour of the English Football Association team in Canada would especially like to welcome a large crowd of boys to the game at the Royal Athletic Park on June 24. Special twenty-five cent tickets for school children are now on sale, and all parents and other adults are reminded that an act of good sportsmanship would be to give the youngsters assistance to enable them to attend the game.
The boys will have an uninterrupted view of the field and will not be kept waiting at the gate.
C. V. MILTON,
President, Lower Island Football Association.

Tricky Bob Kruse Lets Go Of Ropes And Evko Goes Out

Vancouver, June 11.—Rambunctious Robert Kruse of Portland elicited a big way at the Arena yesterday evening, for he won the odd fall in three from the large and grim-visaged Czechoslovakian, John Evko, nowadays billed as being from Seattle. It was another one of those surprise finishes which left the fans raving with satisfaction or aggravation depending on which of the big boys they happened to heap their moral support.

Kruse got away to a flying start in the second round when he pitched Evko on his back with a reverse body and arm lock to take the fall in 2:30. Evko made it square in the fourth when he slammed Kruse very flat with an inside crotch and half Nelson in just fifty-eight seconds. Then in the fifth as Evko was trying to get Kruse away from his beloved ropes the wily Bob suddenly let go and they tumbled over backward, Kruse on top and pinning John, with what they termed a reverse Nelson in 1:05.

Kruse was much outweighed, though the announcer gave their weights as 200 for Kruse and 210 for Evko.

SLASHING BOUT
The second three-round bout between Jack McLaughlin and Johnny Coyle of Olympia, Wash., proved to be one of the most spectacular mat battles ever seen in Vancouver. Coyle lived up to the predictions by matching McLaughlin in speed and aggressiveness, but falling down somewhat in condition and stamina and also in the matter of skill.

Jack won the battle with a terrific body slam after Coyle had bowled him over with two fast headlocks. Will Bill Coyle of Astoria, Wash., was just a bit wilder than usual in the opener against Ernie Arthur of Trail, and Referee Bill Granoukos gave him the bum's rush in the second heat after he had pulled about every foul trick known to the game. He refused to break, clamped on repeated strangleholds, planted a vicious knee into his opponent's stomach and otherwise made himself obnoxious to the fans.

Los Angeles, June 11.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, 230 pounds, yesterday evening defeated Dr. Karl Sarpolis, 210 pounds, in one fall to retain his claim to the heavyweight wrestling championship recently awarded him by the California Athletic Commission. The Glendale, Cal., grappler took the exhibition from the Los Angeles wrestler with a headlock in forty-one minutes on the second round. Sarpolis was unable to continue.

Everett Marshall, 212 pounds of La Junta, Col., and Able Coleman, 190 pounds, fought to a draw in the first round of the semi-windup.

St. Louis, June 11.—Karl Fojello, 194, Chicago, pinned Dick Davidson, 220, Los Angeles, in the main event of a heavyweight programme opening the outdoor wrestling season here yesterday evening. Fojello scored the fall in thirty-one minutes twenty-five seconds.

Portland, Ore., June 11.—Ira Derr, Salt Lake City, pinned Dick Davidson, 220, Stanislaus Zyzko, Chicago, in a heavyweight wrestling bout here yesterday evening. Derr scored the fall in thirty-one minutes twenty-five seconds.

Zyzko won the first fall in fifteen minutes with a reverse headlock and Derr evened the bout in three minutes with an aeroplane spin. They had been wrestling less than two minutes for the third fall when the referee ruled the match to Derr, ruling that Zyzko had a strange hold on his opponent.

Portland, Ore., June 11.—Fifteen-round championship boxing bouts in the state were legalized yesterday when Governor Jos. B. Ely signed the new boxing bill which will become effective in ninety days. The bill also will allow twelve-round bouts for New England championship contests. For the last eleven years, since boxing was placed under control of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, bouts have been limited to ten rounds.

London, June 11.—The "old firm" of Jack Hobbs and Fredie Siddle, Tacoma, once again proved invincible in English cricket at the Kensington Oval yesterday. England's celebrated opening batsmen put on 176 runs for the Players against the Gentlemen, and were undefeated when stumps were drawn for the day.

Hobbs scored 101 and Siddle 75. Rain spoiled other matches. Two matches, those between New Zealand and Gloucestershire and Lancashire and Hampshire, could not be started, while most of the games did not get any farther than the tea interval. A bowling performance of more than usual merit was Sharry's six wickets for 31 runs for Leicestershire against Cambridge University.

GOOD RACES ASSURED IN BIKE EVENTS

Large Entry List For Colonist Classic To-morrow Be-speaks Keen Competition

Glenn Robbins and Jim Davies Figured to Show Up Well in Feature Contest

With Glenn Robbins, flashy young Victoria rider entered in the senior race in which Jim Davies, Vancouver, is one of the chief challengers, local followers of the race are assured a grueling battle for first honors in The Colonist bike classic to-morrow evening.

Both boys have had plenty of experience in the pedal-pushing game and should be among the leaders in the higher category.

The first race will start sharp at 7:30 o'clock at the corner of Quadra Street and King's Road, where the events will also finish.

London, June 11.—The "old firm" of Jack Hobbs and Fredie Siddle, Tacoma, once again proved invincible in English cricket at the Kensington Oval yesterday. ## Longer Bouts Are Given Sanction In Massachusetts

Boston, June 11.—Fifteen-round championship boxing bouts in the state were legalized yesterday when Governor Jos. B. Ely signed the new boxing bill which will become effective in ninety days. The bill also will allow twelve-round bouts for New England championship contests. For the last eleven years, since boxing was placed under control of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, bouts have been limited to ten rounds.

Veteran Hendrick Plays Major Role In Reds' Success

Player Discarded by Brooklyn Robins Inspires Bottom Team in Circuit to New Heights; Defeated Brooklyn 10 to 3 Yesterday for Seventh Win in Last Eight Games; Hendrick Poled Our Triple to Score Two Runs; Cubs Again Tied With Giants for Second Place; Washington Gain on Athletics

Harvey Hendrick, the thirty-three-year-old veteran, who was not good enough to play regularly with the Brooklyn Robins this spring, has become a ball of fire since his recent sale to Cincinnati. His batting average is topped only by that of Babe Ruth. Inspired by the first baseman's great .386 clip at the plate, Colonel Dan Howley's pupils have won seven of their last eight games against the invaders from the east and are beginning to make threatening gestures from their cellar retreat. Hendrick's big bat has helped them win as many games in eight days as they won in the first six weeks before he joined them.

Watching the Majors

Harvey Hendrick, Cincinnati veteran, set ground in his effort to treat the big six batting leadership from Babe Ruth, when he connected for only one hit in four times up against Brooklyn yesterday. Ruth, idle for the day, retained his leadership with a mark of .386, compared to Hendrick's .386.

Wally Rostker of the Reds and Owen Cuyler of the Cubs climbed into the top six place among the regulars as Buzz Arlett, big gun of the Phillies, dropped from the select circle. The leaders:

	G	A	R	H	E	P
Ruth, Yankees	38	133	39	63	28	38
Hendrick, Reds	33	127	21	49	28	38

HUDSON'S BAY, FIVE C'S WIN CRICKET GAMES

Storemen Victors By Single Run After Saanich Had Made Good Total
Pendray's Bowling Holds Brentwood in Check and Gives Churchmen Win

Although Saanich players batted in fine form and scored 148 runs for seven wickets, they failed to win their Wednesday League cricket fixture against the Hudson's Bay when the latter made one more run for the same number of wickets. The final score read 148 to 148. In the other match of the day, Five C's almost doubled the count on Brentwood College, with the final totals being, 83 to 44.

George Payne's fifty-six, not out, was the feature of the Saanich-Bay fixture. Stephens was the next highest man for the team with twenty-nine, while for Saanich, Wilson, Phillips and N. Wilkinson were the high scorers.

Brentwood's bowler, Pendray, tipped seven balls for ten runs in as many overs, held Brentwood College down, while the Five C's batters were able to collect a fair number of runs to score their victory. C. P. Comley of the churchmen was high batter with twenty-nine.

For the College, Privett, with fifteen, was leader.

Swimming and Track Teams of 'Y' May Go To Vancouver July 1

Aquatic Performers Looking Forward to Return Meet With New Westminster Club on Mainland at Beginning of Month; Arrangements Being Made to Try to Ensure Trip; Runners and Jumpers Will Compete in Caledonia Games Same Day at Hastings Park

Both swimming and track teams of the local Y.M.C.A. will journey to Vancouver for meets on July 1 if plans now being considered at the association are carried through, it was announced this morning by Archie McKinnon, physical director. It is hoped to send the runners to the mainland to compete in the annual Caledonia games, while the aquatic performers of the local "Y" are expected to make the trip on the same day to meet New Westminster Y.M.C.A. in a return gala for the one held here last month.

The swimming meet will be held in the Crystal Pool, Vancouver. It is understood yesterday evening the club instructed the acting secretary to write to the head of the New Westminster group asking for more information on the matter. While here, Len Letroy, Royal City coach, expressed the wish of his club to entertain the Victorians in a return match and suggested the first of next month as a suitable date.

SEKING VENGEANCE
If they make the trip, the Capital City swimmers will be seeking revenge for the defeat the mainlanders inflicted upon them during their visit here. In that gala the Victorians were beaten by a point score of 42 to 40.

STRONG TRACK SQUAD

Rifle Shooting
Sgt. Frank Ho Len, visiting Chinese riflemen from Calgary, was the victor in the regular weekly shoots of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association held yesterday afternoon at Heath's Range. The visitor, shooting over the three ranges turned in the fine score of 98. Pte. A. W. Evans and Capt. Tapley were tied for second place with scores of 96.

Governor-General Explains How He Was Able to Marry
Ottawa, June 11.—Earnestly appearing for a wider knowledge of the French language throughout Canada, the Earl of Bessborough told students of Ashbury College at their closing exercises yesterday that he would not have experienced the supreme happiness of marrying his wife if he had not been able to speak her language.

SHOOTING WITH SHUTE
Denny Shute
The proper place for the hands on the club handle for the various shots is a difficult subject to discuss. So much depends on conditions that cannot be figured out anywhere but on the golf course.

When one gets into the shorter irons, the grip goes down the shaft. For drives, brassies, long spoons and No. 1 and 2 iron shots, I grip the club so that from half to a quarter of an inch of the grip is above my left hand. I might hold the club clear at the end, but I'd probably have the feeling somewhere in the course of the swing that I did not have a firm grip on the club. It is best to know you have control of the club. That's why I waste the half inch or so.

City Schools Give Colorful Displays

Cadets, Dancing Groups,
Gymnastic Squad and Girl
Guides in Exhibition

First Open Day Acclaimed By Hundreds of Spectators of Impressive Event

The smartness and precision of physical training and gymnastic groups were blended with the grace of interpretive and folk dancing in one of the most colorful and well-executed displays ever staged in Victoria at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday, when city schools combined in their first Open Day. Hundreds of children, clad in the neat blue and white cadet uniforms, gym suits, colorful national costumes, floral interpretive dresses, Girl Guides and Naval Cadet uniforms and other garb, furnished a bright panorama for the crowds of spectators who filled the grandstands to capacity to see the event.

The display was staged under the direction of A. C. Hinton and won warm praise from Premier Tolmie and Brigadier J. Sutherland-Brown, who were guests of honor.

Bands playing in the infield, furnished martial music for the marching and softer strains for the dancing.

MASSED AT OPENING

Grouped in mass formation, the different units opened the event with the singing of "O Canada" before they formed up in marching order and made the salute before the Premier, Brigadier Sutherland-Brown and representatives of the school board. Led by the 33rd Victoria High School cadet battalion the procession marched past in splendid style.

After taking the salute, the cadets went through mass physical training exercises, showing great precision in their calisthenics. Under the command of Instructor J. Ross the huge group swayed in unison in the bands, a sea of white and blue uniforms in perfect harmony.

Arm swinging, running, stride

Jumping and other drills were carried out in this exhibition.

TINY TOTS' DISPLAY

Tiny tots from Beacon Hill School followed with singing games, carolling merrily as they played "London Bridge" and "Around the Mulberry Bush." In both they showed splendid training, gracefully going through their steps without a mistake.

Five folk dancing groups won high commendation for their presentations on the raised platform in the infield.

Girls of Victoria West school clad in middie and blue skirts performed "Seven Jumps." They were followed by dancers from Victoria High School who gave the more intricate "Valse-venne," a delightful folk dance in which their rhythm was exceptionally good.

Clad in the colorful dress of Volga peasant women and a varied type of Cossack costume, students from North Ward won high praise for their exhibition of the "Kachurina," a Russian national vitality and an accurate knowledge of the steps.

COLORFUL DANCE

Carrying out a Spanish motif, the Sir James Douglas group, attired in the bright hues of that country's national dress, were outstanding in the Tarantella, dancing with grace and vigor as they swung their tambourines to the rhythm of the number.

Victoria High School contributed another highly enjoyable exhibition, "Jenny Pluck Pease," and tiny tots from Quadra School rounded out that section of the programme with the "Black Nag," skipping about gracefully.

The Girl Guides, under Miss Stewart Williams and the Victoria High gym squad, shared the honors in the next event, the former pitching tents and making preparations for a night under canvas, the latter showing their skill in the cooking tripod, while the school team performed on the parallel bars and long horse.

Under the direction of W. Roper, High School physical instructor, the boys went through a series of difficult stunts, including intricate swings, balances and spectacular figures. On the horse they showed equally good form, winning unstinted applause with their group and individual performances. Two clowns added greatly to the attractiveness of the exhibition.

SET UP CAMP

During the proceedings the Girl Guides set up their tents, ran up the Union Jack, prepared a fire and had everything in readiness for a night under canvas, striking camp just before the squad completed its exercises.

In dainty Pierrette suits, girls of George Jay School opened the second folk dancing group with "Jack Be Nimble." Like the others taking part, they showed excellent training.

In colorful black and orange dresses the students of Sir James Douglas followed with "Tretur," while pretty little girls of the "Glenlivet" Central, gave an excellent rendition of the "Six-hand Reel," going through the different steps with a sureness and grace which ranked them among the best in the entire display.

Depicting various flowers, North Ward girls in dresses of many colors, showed good training in their graceful "Flower Dance." The section was brought to a close with a well-executed "Mountain Waltz" by the Victoria West School.

OUTSTANDING EVENT

In one of the most outstanding events of the day a select group from Victoria High School presented the "Dance of the Dile," an interpretive number based on the old sun-worship theme. To represent the bird after which their dance was named, the performers were clad in red and black costumes, with gossamer wings and feather-crested headpieces. The costumes and dance itself were designed by A. C. Hinton, physical education supervisor for city schools, while the music was written by J. Hinton.

The entire presentation was brought to a close by an outstanding field gun display by the Sea Cadets Corps.

In this display, the gun, with its crew, was supposed to be in hiding, but was observed by the enemy. An explosive smoke screen was set up in order to cover the advance of the gun. Whilst advancing the right gun wheel became weakened, necessitating its removal and changing with a limber wheel. Further on in the advance the left gun wheel was strained, again necessitating the changing of wheels.

On further advance the enemy was located in rear, the gun was brought into action and fire commenced. After firing three rounds the enemy retreated, and the gun was limbered up to pursue. During the pursuit, both gun wheels got so badly sprung that it was found necessary to shift back the two wheels previously shifted in the advance.

Further on a narrow ravine was mistaken for a narrow road through the jungle and the gun had to be reversed. This was done, and on coming out of the ravine it was found the enemy had dispersed.

ABLE TRAINED CREW

The crew, comprised of the following nineteen Sea Cadets, was very ably trained by C.P.O. Milne of the Royal Canadian Navy, in a very short space of time: C.P.O. Cadet McGregor (captain), P.O. Cadet Boak, L.S. Cadet Hall, L.S. Cadet Smith, L.S. Cadet A. Harman, Cadet Longfield, Cadet Emery, Cadet Moody, L.S. Cadet E. Harman, P.O. Cadet Clarke, P.O. Cadet Cline, Cadet Blythe, Cadet Brown, Cadet Henry, L.S. Cadet Price, L.S. Cadet Ebb, Cadet Canavan, Cadet Campbell, Cadet Hughes, Cadet Fielding, Cadet Crouch and Cadet Wilson.

The Fifth Regiment, Firemen's and Boy's bands, under the batons of A. Prescott, C. Raine and George Greene respectively, played continuously throughout the afternoon, lending greatly to the success of the event.

The entire proceedings were under the direction of A. C. Hinton. W. H. Muncey attended to the dances.

PREMIER'S MESSAGE

By means of an amplifier placed in the middle of the infield, through the courtesy of radio station CPCT, Premier Tolmie publicly expressed his appreciation of the exhibitions.

He paid tribute to the men and women who had staged the impressive event.

To the boys and girls who took part, he gave a message of hope in the future of the Province, and urged them to prepare themselves for the work of developing British Columbia.

He reminded the children the Province had great natural resources and had untold opportunities. It was their mission to train themselves to develop these.

If they felt tempted to go elsewhere when they grew older to make their living, he cautioned them to think well over the opportunities British Columbia had and to weigh things in the balance before they left.

In closing the Premier urged them not to be discouraged over present conditions, reminding them Canada had passed safely through sixteen serious periods of crisis. The Dominion, and particularly the Province, would again overcome its difficulties and return to better times.

Physical Training Work Given Praise

Praise for Major A. C. Hinton, supervisor of physical training for city schools, was voiced at the School Board meeting yesterday evening during a discussion of physical training prompted by the display given at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon.

Trustee P. E. George pointed out that the demonstration was a new departure in Western Canada and had shown clearly the value of the physical training course in the schools. He said there was need for a wider scope in the training to include lower grades but Municipal Inspector George Deane stated physical training was on the curriculum for all grades.

The board decided to send a letter of appreciation to Major Hinton and all who were responsible for the success of the field day.

The board will answer a letter from Hans Kroger, secretary of the Workers' Alliance, who asked if the board had power to stop teachers taking remunerative positions during the holidays, by pointing out it had no control.

Rain Interferes With Berries; Jam Trade On

Due to rain here the local market has been supplied with strawberries out of storage, the Department of Agriculture announced to-day.

Rain was general throughout the Fraser Valley yesterday and little prospect of clearing. All picking was for jam. Processing commenced at New Westminster. No strawberry cars are going forward and when weather clears only British Sovereign variety will be shipped from there.

Calgary reported receiving 600 crates of strawberries L.C.L. yesterday, with a heavy carryover from day before. These were moving very slowly, on account of rain. The rain on the main line should slow up the L.C.L. shipments, and give the Calgary and Edmonton markets a chance to clean up.

Garden City

A concert was given by the Garden City United Church choir in the church recently, under the leadership of Conductor Jones. H. James was chairman. Rev. J. C. Switzer spoke of the splendid work accomplished by the choir. The following assisted in the programme: Solo, Mrs. Hobden, Mrs. Brown, Mr. Woods, Miss L. Reid, duets, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Miss Sangster, Mrs. Reid and Messrs. Woods and Jones; recitations, Mrs. Eoff, Mr. Pangier, choir, double quartette; mandoline solo, Mr. Ribbans; pianoforte solos, Jean Scott, Doreen Briggs; pianists, Miss M. organize the Pender Island Athletic Association for the purpose of promoting both indoor and outdoor sports in the community. William Falconer was chosen president, Walton Bowerman vice-president, and A. E. McLean secretary-treasurer. A general committee composed of James Bradley, Laurie Auchterlone, Art Bowerman, J. B. Bridge and C. Kirk, was selected for sports; while sub-committees were chosen for football, basketball, golf, tennis and softball. The athletic field at Hope Bay has been loaned for the year by L. Auchterlone, but it is hoped that a permanent playground may be obtained.

Equipment is being ordered through the secretary and an early start is anticipated. An interesting football match was played Saturday between the locals and Ladner. The final goal was scored by Ladner, leaving the game 4-3 in their favor. J. B. Bridge officiated as referee. The Women's Institute met for their monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon in Hope Bay Hall. Mrs. J. S. Stiggins presiding. The secretary, Mrs. L. W. Auchterlone, announced an enrollment of thirty-six members.

On Wednesday the members enjoyed an outing to South Pender where they were guests of Mrs. Crane and other members in the district.

The American yacht Alarwee, with a party aboard, called at Hope Bay on Saturday en route to Seattle from a cruise in northern waters.

The school children, under the direction of their teachers, Miss Locke and Miss Dickinson, held a beach picnic on the holiday last week at Welcome Bay beginning with a paper chase.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayley of Kamloops are visiting Mrs. Bayley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Adams.

Langford

Members of the Kingston Street Tennis Club will visit Langford on Sunday afternoon to play a return match in the third division of the Vancouver Island Tennis League. Play will start at 2:30 o'clock.

There was a full attendance of members present on Tuesday evening when the council of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Association held its quarterly meeting in the Women's Institute Hall. W. C. Couchman, president, presided.

The secretary, Mrs. C. Brown, dealt with the correspondence. Dr. H. E. Young and the medical officer of health, Dr. Irene Bastow Hudson, also were present.

A children's sewing class was organized on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Knight, Goldstream Road. Pamela Bennett was elected treasurer and Eileen Hincks secretary. Classes will be held at 3:45 o'clock every Friday afternoon, and all girls are invited to be present.

A camp of the Asphalt Surfacing Department is located at Goldstream, on the Island Highway.

There will be no guide meeting on Saturday afternoon, but all guides are requested to be present at the Government House site.

Brentwood

The West Saanich Women's Institute held their monthly meeting in the Institute Hall Brentwood, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. O. Wallace in the chair. The correspondence included a letter from the Canadian Industries Limited regarding the prize of stumping powder as supplied through the institutes. An invitation to join in a picnic with the Victoria Women's Institute on June 24 had to be declined due to the date clashing with other events. A discussion took place regarding the school children's prizes given annually by the institute, which resulted in the convenor of the school committee being appointed to purchase the prizes and to arrange for their presentation. A bridge party was arranged to take place on Wednesday, June 17, under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. W. Watt and Mrs. Anderson, the proceeds to go to the hall painting fund. A buttonhole competition under the direction of Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Anderson created much interest and resulted in Mrs. Linchright carrying off first prize, with Mrs. J. Roberts a close second. Afternoon tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. Roberts and Mrs. E. Sims. The next meeting will be held on July 14 and will take the form of an all-day picnic at the home of the president, Mrs. Wallace, Brentwood Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Osborne, Henry Rutman and Mrs. Mrs. Urquhart, Yvonne, Avenue, are touring up the island.

The Lesser Evil Husband: I can't eat this stuff. Wife: Never mind, dear. I have some lovely recipes for making up leftovers. Husband: In that case I'll eat it now.

Diphtheria Is Still Far From Being Under Control Despite Progress Made By Scientists

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Diphtheria is one of the diseases about which scientific medicine has most information, yet the condition is far from being under complete control.

Every year the American Medical Association checks the records of ninety-three cities, with a view to finding out the extent to which the disease is gaining headway or being subdued in each one of them.

Duluth and Salt Lake City had only one death each from diphtheria in 1930 and in both cases the victims were non-residents. San Diego, Calif., had three deaths from diphtheria, all of which were non-residents. All New England cities, except Waterbury and Summerville, had lower rates for 1930 than for the preceding five-year average.

The rates for New York City, 2.5, and for Philadelphia, 2.8, are astounding when it is considered that the rate for New York City between 1920 and 1924, before the discovery of antitoxin, was 19.4; from 1925 to 1929, fifty-eight, from 1915 to 1919, 31.8, and from 1925 to 1929, 10.7. The rates for Philadelphia are approximately the same.

These are excellent examples of the way in which modern scientific preventive medicine can control a disease of this character, if given the opportunity.

Wilmington, Del., and Norfolk, Va., in their particular section, have the highest rates, and Wilmington would seem to be in particular need of a campaign on the subject, since its rate has never gone below ten. In Detroit a special immunization campaign has been carried on in recent years. The figures promptly reflect this in steady decrease, the rate for Detroit in 1930 being the lowest in the history of the community and one-half the average for the previous five-year period.

The rates for Chicago, Evanston and Peoria in 1930 were somewhat above the previous five-year averages. Nashville was much worse, but Chattanooga and Louisville showed improvement. San Francisco and San Diego had approximately the same rates for 1930

LIFE INSURANCE IS GREAT FORCE FOR WORLD GOOD

Vice-president of U.S.A. Life Underwriters Tells Local Association

"There is no greater force working for the world's good than life insurance. One can apply to it the two sayings: 'He best serves who serves himself,' and 'bear ye one another's burdens,' observed Charles C. Thompson, Seattle, first vice-president of the National Association of Life Underwriters of the United States, at a luncheon meeting of the Victoria and District Life Underwriters' Association in Spencer's dining-room to-day.

"Life insurance indicates the principles of thrift and systematic saving," continued the guest speaker. "President Wilson once said that, if people had no thought for the future, they had no adequate conception of human life. The essence of life insurance is present denial for future benefit. In addition, it is one of the soundest of money investments, being second only to government securities. A bridegroom should buy a policy before he buys a wedding ring."

"GOLDEN OPPORTUNITIES" NOW
In spite of all the present talk, Mr. Thompson emphasized that at no time in the last thirty years have there been so many "golden opportunities" as there were to-day. Fourteen billion dollars are being saved in savings accounts in the United States alone, and the one regrettable thing was that a great deal of this was "timid money."

Many interesting figures were given by the speaker. Canada was second in per capita life insurance, he pointed out, the statistics being: United States, $600 per person; Canada, $485 per person; Australia, $420, and the United Kingdom, $264 per person. France and Germany were far down the list, the English speaking countries had eighty per cent of the world's life insurance in the world, and North America had seventy-four per cent.

One hundred and fourteen billion dollars were invested in North America in life insurance policies, and thirty Canadian companies were doing good business in the United States, the speaker told his audience.

DEVELOPS CITIZENSHIP
The keynote of Mr. Thompson's address was that both insured and underwriter were better citizens as the result of their connection with life insurance. Mention was made during the talk of the possibility of founding an employment bureau in Victoria, where the speaker assured the meeting that plans or such an event were being seriously considered.

Alderman James Adams introduced the speaker, officiating in place of the mayor, W. E. McIntyre, president of the association, was chairman. During the luncheon a resolution to do away with the Victoria College was discussed, and though the question was held over till the next meeting, a good many of the underwriters were in favor of it.

MAHARAJA OFF TO THE EAST

Vancouver, June 11.—The Maharaja of Jind, his wife, three daughters, one son and his suite, who arrived yesterday evening from the Orient aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, left here this morning over the C.P.R. lines for Quebec, where they will sail on June 20 aboard the liner Empress of Australia for London.

The Maharaja and his family left the Empress shortly after she docked here yesterday and went to the Hotel Vancouver to spend the night. The party was met at the docks by representatives of the Sikh Temple in Vancouver. Members of the Maharaja's staff were conspicuous by their turbans, in varying colors, according to their caste, but the Maharaja was attired in conventional European style. He wore a soft felt hat and a light grey traveling suit.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Permit for construction of a four-room dwelling, at 2858 Shakespeare Street was taken out at the City Hall by D. Morrison. It will cost $2,000.

A $4,000 grant was yesterday voted by the provincial government to aid the British Columbia Diamond Jubilee celebration. The grant was ratified by order-in-council.

Officers of the Non-Pensioners' Welfare Association will be elected at a meeting to be held in the club quarters, 204 Yates Street, next Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

Reports of the provincial convention of the Canadian Legion, held at New Westminster last month, were given by delegates of the Pro Patria Branch at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

In the Junior Softball League games played yesterday evening the Rangers defeated the C.P.R. 16 to 7, the Shiners defeated the Rockets 6 to 5, and the Sons of England won from the Seven Oaks.

In the competition for the J. H. Lee prize at the Colwood Golf Club Water Hole, the winner was a local net score of 130. E. W. Lamy finished in second place with 140, while T. L. Swan was third with 141.

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Welsh Society for the month of June has been cancelled, and no further meetings will be held until the autumn. The temporary appointees will be sent to all members, W. H. Gardner, secretary-treasurer, states.

The Oak Bay Rose Society's annual rose show will be held at the Crystal Garden on Saturday, June 20. Entries officially close June 16, but will be received up to 10 o'clock on the morning of the show. One of the features of the show will be the school children's competition for decorated rose table.

Edward Cooper will be deputy to act in the place of Norman Baker, provincial superannuation commissioner, during the latter's absence in the east, where he is gathering actuarial data in connection with British Columbia pension schemes. The temporary appointment was made by order-in-council yesterday.

Reports from the Salt Spring outing committee discussion of the rental survey by D. Leeming, consideration of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Convention in Spokane and the Airport By-law, will feature the business of the British Columbia Council of the Victoria at its luncheon in Spencer's private dining-room to-morrow at 12:30 o'clock.

The British Columbia Court of Appeal yesterday afternoon reserved judgment in Shannon vs. King, an appeal by H. B. King, principal of Kitano Junior High School against an order by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald that he answer interrogatories in an action by Miss Myrtle Shannon, prior to preparation by her of a statement of claim for slander. The interrogatories are to ascertain what report Mr. King made to the Vancouver School Board regarding Miss Shannon's service at his school, from which she was dismissed after serving one year.

Major L. R. Andrews, lumber trade commissioner jointly for the province and the B.C. timber industry, will remain in the Antipodes to continue his work of the provincial export business, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. Major Andrews is on a tour of the province, and will continue his activities in New Zealand.

Excellent results will follow the visit of the trade mission to the Commonwealth, observes the lumber commissioner in one of his letters to the government. He has been encouraged a great deal in his work by Australian officials, he adds.

Figures dealing with B.C.'s lumber exports to Australia during the last year are under consideration by the southern country's purchases play a vital part in the success of the lumber industry. It is predicted the new Canadian-Australian trade treaty will considerably increase the lumber sales of the province.

PROTEST TAX ON REALTY SALES

Investments in Vancouver Realty Before Court of Appeal

The British Columbia Court of Appeal this morning heard further evidence in the case of Parris, E.C., in the appeal of the Merritt Realty Company Limited against Charles R. Brown, provincial assessor for Vancouver assessment district, the action concerning income taxes amounting to $15,242 levied against profits made by sales of realty in the years 1926, 1927 and 1929.

Mr. Parris argued that the dealings in realty were really profitable transactions in capital, not earnings from business.

It had been held by W. H. S. Dixon, judge of the court of revision of Vancouver, that the result of the Derby in two seconds, Alexandria in two seconds, Capetown in three seconds, Adelaide in four seconds, Hongkong in five seconds and South America in five seconds.

Mr. Cox explains in his report that this gives some indication of the high pitch of efficiency to which this worldwide service has been brought. But it does not stop there, and improvements are continually being made in order to increase further the security and reliability of the service for dealing with the vast volume of telegrams and cables that are handled daily, and of which a substantial proportion passes over Canadian lines.

NANAIMO NOTES
Special to The Times
Nanaimo, June 11.—Members of the local Knights of Pythias, accompanied by members from Victoria, Ladysmith and Duncan, will journey to Vancouver June 13 to pay a fraternal visit to Bathhouse Lodge No. 24. The "Traveling Gavel" will be presented by the Nanaimo lodges to the Vancouver lodges on this occasion from whence it will be taken to the upper country to go the rounds of the various lodges.

Ladysmith Siege Memento as Gavel For Island City
Ladysmith, June 11.—The board of trade meeting on Tuesday received a communication from Ladysmith in South Africa, conveying civic felicitations of that distant city to its namesake in B.C. The board, upon the choice of a blue and grey gavel, and other shalia, a "gud" poem among the defenders, and this, according to Councillor James Corrigan, mayor of the Natal city, will be sent here in the harmless form of a mayoral gavel.

NORMAL SCHOOL ENDS CLASSES HERE ON FRIDAY

About 150 Students to Bid Farewell to Institution at Exercises; Banquet To-night

Prospective teachers, who have gone through a year's training at the Provincial Normal School here, will bid farewell to the institution to-morrow at their closing exercises in the assembly hall. Approximately 110 students will be leaving the institution. As the function to-morrow morning D. L. MacLaurin, principal, and members of the faculty will give addresses.

This evening the student body will gather with the teachers at a closing banquet, during which toasts will be proposed to the school and various figures who have been prominent during the year's activities.

Last week the prospective teachers completed their examinations, which will be marked and forwarded to the Department of Education for approval before being announced.

Rains Over Dry Areas Put Grain Prices Down

With rains falling practically all over Manitoba, wheat prices weakened to-day and closed lower in all markets.

Canadian prairie forecast: Moderate to fresh winds in Manitoba, cloudy, with occasional showers to-day and part of Friday, then fair; Saskatchewan, cloudy with scattered showers, Friday mostly fair; Alberta, mostly fair to-day and Friday.

Liverpool market was weak to-day owing to favorable Canadian weather reports.

Winnipeg, June 11.—Longs threw their wheat overboard to-day on reports of rains.

There is no export business.

Swift Current, June 11.—West from Regina prospects are very poor. Some fields show a little green, but most fields are badly brown and as bare as they were last fall. What little wheat there is can only make a very light crop, with heavy rains at once as the season is getting very late.

Nearby Swift Current, prospects improve, though growth is small and stands more or less thin, but if heavy rains occur soon, this territory can still raise a fair crop. Generally speaking, these territories can raise only very light wheat crops.

There was slight rain last night but this country must have soaking rains to greatly change the situation.

C.P.R. reports good rains in the Regina division, with from two to eight hours rain reported over practically the entire Moose Jaw division.

"Should rains in Canada prove as questionable as reported, further decline can be expected in wheat prices, but it is questionable whether the bears have sufficient courage to extend their interest greatly, as there are some bullish possibilities in the situation that cannot be entirely overlooked.

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, June 11.—Wheat: With general rains or showers over spring wheat territory, both sides of the border, combined with very weak cables and absence of any export business, the local wheat market was inclined to be heavy at the start this morning when prices broke 1/2 to 1 1/2 under the close last night with long liquidating. However, while the prospects here were generally better, it was extremely light in some areas, especially southwestern Saskatchewan, a fact that brought in some fairly good buying in a small way. With offerings light after the first thirty minutes, the market was able to recover nearly all the earlier declines, but this upturn was not held, the market again falling away to close to early lows.

Chicago market, which had held decidedly firm most of the day, finally weakened considerably in the afternoon and this pulled Winnipeg down. Seaboard advices stated that no important export business had been disclosed in any direction. It was understood that there was something of a good sized business under the market.

Demand for cash wheat was very quiet. There was no business in the four markets. Heavy rains were again reported in parts of the winter wheat belt, and some close observers are of the opinion that too much rain is being received in certain areas, and are fearful of damage from lodging and a difficult harvest.

Moisture received in western Canada will prove very beneficial for the time being, but considerable more is needed. Weather is now clearing over part of Saskatchewan and Alberta, but further scattered showers are forecast for Manitoba. Winnipeg closed 1/2 to 3/4 lower.

Coarse grains: There was not much doing in the coarse grains, the market being generally quiet, and much steadier than wheat. Rye was showing some strength at times, but this was largely in sympathy with an upturn in Chicago rye.

In the cash market only odd cars were trading. There was no export business reported.

Cash closed 1/2 to 3/4 lower, barley 1/2 up to unchanged and rye 1/2 up to 1/4 lower; flax weak.

Liverpool due 1/2 to 3/4 higher on Winnipeg.

MONTREAL LOOKS FOR LEADERSHIP

Canadian Press

Montreal, June 11.—Security prices turned firmer with the trading of the last hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and losses on some of the leading issues such as Canadian Pacific, International Nickel were reduced with the late prices.

Domestic Glass preferred, Canadian Steamships preferred, British Paper preferred, Royal Bank and Cud, all showed losses which ranged from 1 to 4 points.

Question of dividends on Abitibi preferred will be discussed by the board of directors at a meeting to be held June 24.

(By Logan & Bryan)

Montreal, June 11.—The character of the stock market underwent little actual change during to-day's session. A firmer opening early gave way to dullness, with shading prices. Reactions on the day were neither large nor important, but the fact that losses were established, coupled with an extremely small volume of turnover tended to delay any evidence of trading interest in stocks for the moment. Apparently some lead is needed and pending that the market may drag along as it has been doing in recent days. The trend of Montreal Power will tell the story of the day's market.

The stock opened firm at 43, but soon conceded a fraction and ranged down to 42 1/2 during the balance of the session and closed at 42. Brazil yesterday's feature, touched sixteen on one or two occasions, then fluctuated narrowly below that figure.

The bank group showed little additional fluctuation, but was inclined to move irregularly. In the balance of the more active list small change was to be noted, although an interesting development was the favorable manner in which the statement by the directors of Steel Co. of Canada was received by the market, the common stock jumping to a point to 27 1/2 and retaining most of its advance.

All in all, there was not much in the situation to encourage either active trading operations or brisk investment participation in Canadian securities. It is notable that the market follows here continue to keep a weather eye turned in the direction of Wall Street for possible leads.

Folly of Girl Who Threw Away Her Chance of Happiness With Her Honor—Should This Wife Stay Home on Her Husband's "Evening Off"?

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young woman twenty-seven years old, and have been engaged for two years to a young man who is a year and a half my junior. I am very much in love with him and he with me, and he takes me everywhere and lavishes beautiful presents upon me. I have a splendid job and he is well off and will come day after day into quite a large fortune. But here is my problem!

Although this man is so dear to me and speaks of our marriage vaguely some day, he doesn't set the day and when I broach the subject he says that he is not ready to marry now and that I must trust him and that when he gets ready to marry he will tell me. Now this man has been and is my lover. Do you think he would hurry the marriage proposition if I should send him away or would I lose his love?

MARGO.

ANSWER:
I do not think the man has the slightest intention of marrying you. Why should he, when he does not have to support you and is free to leave you without the mess of divorce or having to pay alimony when he gets tired of you?

In your particular case there is no reason to put off the wedding, except the very excellent one that the man doesn't want to tie himself down by marriage. He finds you agreeable and charming, a delightful companion, and you have a passing attraction for him, but his affection for you is not strong enough to make him want to bind himself to you for life.

How little respect this man has for you he shows when he says that when he gets ready to marry he will tell you. His idea is that perhaps some day he will throw the handkerchief to you like the grand Turk used to do to the woman who was the favorite of the hour, and he knows you will scramble to get it. Not much chance for happiness for the wife when the husband adopts that attitude toward her. He will always consider that she should be grateful to him for having condescended to marry her.

The man who is really in love with a woman is eager to marry her. He is hurrying on the wedding day. He is willing to take risks to get her. So you can judge your fiance's state of affection by his apathy.

I could weep at the folly of girls who cannot see that all the barriers that surround marriage have been built for their protection, and that when they break them down they do so at their peril and that when they throw away their honor they throw away their real chance for happiness in life.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have a husband whom I love dearly and want to be with every minute when he is not at work, but he insists that he should at least have one evening a week just for himself with his men friends. But he is not willing when he goes out that I should go out with my girl friends. He wants me to stay at home alone or else go to my mother's, and it worries me that he doesn't give me the liberty that he takes. How should I dispose of my off evenings under these conditions?

PERPLEXED WIFE.

ANSWER:
I think your husband is very unfair to you. What is sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose, and if he wants to spend one evening a week with his men friends he should be fair enough not to raise any objection to your spending that evening with your girl friends.

Certainly the society of your girl friends will do you no more harm than the society of his men friends will harm him, and you are quite as likely to pass an innocent and blameless evening with your companions as he with his.

I think that both husband and wife who take an evening off every week will find it a most admirable arrangement and one that is calculated to keep the home fires burning instead of putting them out. For the bane of most marriages is boredom. Husbands and wives talk out when they see too much of each other and too little of other people and that is why they are reduced to quarrelling to put some pep into the conversation.

But if they go their different ways to a certain extent they come back with fresh ideas and a new budget of gossip to talk over and with which to amuse each other.

If your husband knew what was good for him he would urge you to go out with your girl friends instead of sitting up alone at home waiting for him, thinking up curtain lectures to deliver to him upon his return. Tell him that if he isn't willing for you to amuse yourself by visiting your friends, the least he can do is to stay at home and entertain you himself. That should fetch him.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married five years and my husband and I get along just fine and we never quarrel except about one thing. He never will give me a cent of money of my own. If I ask him for things he will buy them for me, but if I only had $3 a week of my own, just for little things like embroidery floss and material to sew on, I would be so happy. I work hard and am a good housekeeper and cook and my husband is well-to-do.

M.R.

ANSWER:
If $3 a week would make you happy your husband deserves the Meanest Man's Medal for not giving it to you. Why, you earn that over many times by doing your own cooking and washing and cleaning and scrubbing and sewing and all the other labor it takes to keep a comfortable home, as he would find out if he tried to hire a servant to take your place.

If your husband is such a tightwad that he will not even give you $3 a week to spend for the little things you need, why don't you go out and get yourself a job and work for some man who believes that the laborer is worthy of her hire?

Fireflies

In most parts of Canada, fireflies are lights on the sides. We might magnify not to be seen, but they are a frequent and interesting sight on warm summer evenings in many sections of the United States. In Mexico and in South America, fireflies are common.

Fireflies at Night

A firefly is a beetle which gives forth a flashing light, as it flies over marshes and other places.

If you touch the chimney of a lighted oil lamp, or a glowing electric bulb, you will find it warm.

In lights made by man, much heat is given forth; but Nature has supplied the firefly with a cold light. The light is located in the insect's abdomen.

The method used by fireflies in making light is not entirely clear, but we know the insect's abdomen has tiny air tubes which carry air into contact with fat tissue. The oxygen in the air combines in some manner with the fat, so as to produce a cold light.

Some day an inventor may make a light which does not lose energy in heat. The person who succeeds in making a light as "efficient" as that of a firefly will become famous indeed.

The "railway beetle" of Paraguay, a close relative of the firefly, has a red light at each end of its body and green

RAILWAYS AND ST. LAWRENCE CANAL SCHEME

Ottawa, June 11.—How will the deepening of the St. Lawrence River affect the railway? was the question asked by D. M. Kennedy, U.F.A., Peace River, of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., during yesterday's sitting of the railway committee of the Commons.

The question had been given very serious consideration by all the railways, Sir Henry replied. The deepening of the St. Lawrence might have very serious results for the railways. One belief, however, was there would have to be so much discussion and so much talk about it before the terms were agreed on "that most of us will be in a better land by the time it is an accomplished fact."

In the United States last year, more than 40,000,000 dozen handkerchiefs were made.

FRECKLES ADMITS BEING BOOTLEGGER

Tells How To Rid Your Complexion of These Ugly, Rusty-Brown Spots

If you freckle easily, yet find these blemishes hard to remove, read what thousands of women do to fade out freckles and gain a beautiful complexion. They use Othine-double strength; so they no longer dread the sun and winds that cause fair-skinned women such annoyance at this time of year. You, too, will find that after a few nights' use of this dainty white cream even the worst freckles are disappearing, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce jar of Othine is needed to clear away these ugly blotches and restore the natural beauty of your skin.

Be sure to ask for Othine-double strength at any drug or department store. Money back if it does not remove even the worst freckles and leave your complexion soft, clear and beautiful. (Adv.)

Thomas Dickson Tells Judge Lampman How Northern Hotel Conducted

Says Spósito Handed Him Search Warrant and Told Him to Go and Plead Guilty

All the evidence in the retrial of Angelo Spósito, on a charge of keeping beer for sale at the Northern Hotel, was before Judge Lampman in the County Court yesterday afternoon when the court adjourned. Argument by counsel was deferred until this morning, after a brief but spirited cross-examination between Mr. Spósito and Frank Higgins, counsel for Spósito. The session was attended by an audience which filled the space allowed the public.

When City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison announced that the evidence was complete Mr. Higgins argued that, although the burden in such cases rested on the accused to show the liquor was not for sale, the law provided that the accused was entitled to reasonable doubt. His Honor—He steps in to take care of an illegal business during the absence of the owner. Mr. Higgins—Nevertheless Spósito was not keeping the liquor and had no control over it. His Honor—But Dickson had liquor for sale and left it in care of Spósito. Mr. Higgins—Spósito was only there to see that liquor in the kitchen, owned by Dickson, and other liquor in the store, was not taken away during Dickson's absence. His Honor—But he was left in charge of the floor; it is reasonable to read that as meaning to attend to customers. You argue he was there only to protect liquor worth $200. A man looking after the floor serves drinks; that is his business; that is all they do in these places. Mr. Higgins saw no relevancy between the charge of keeping liquor and the question of when or where the sub-lease was signed. Magnus Anderson, the first witness of the afternoon, claimed ownership of some of the liquor seized and said he had rented a room. Edgar John Robinson, a logger, said he had resided at the hotel since February and that Dickson had care of beer and whisky owned by the witness, but ordered by Dickson, who used Robinson's permit. The witness said he had used his room

Chrysler Eight Four-Door Sedan

Length, roominess, comfort and perfect roadability are a few of the many outstanding features that provide the car with a distinctive personality.

six or seven times since February, paying $1 nightly. On May 1 he had a room at the Commercial Hotel but had visited the Northern Hotel, where he had bought beer and seen others drinking. The witness agreed that the Northern Hotel was a place where liquor was sold illegally. On May 2 he saw Spósito at the Northern Hotel, but believed no body was in charge at the time, Dickson being out. People were sitting around the room, obviously drinking beer. Robinson told Mr. Harrison Spósito had walked around and talked to the customers, he recalled. The next time I noticed Spósito he was standing in the middle of the room. He called out 'the police,' and I got up and went to my room," he testified.

DICKSON ON STAND

Thomas Dickson asked the court to extend him the protection of the Canada Evidence Act, to give him the evidence being used against him. In March last he had taken control of the first floor of the Northern Hotel. Dickson gave the names of the owners of the liquor and beer seized, admitting he was the owner of part of the supply in the cooling-room and all that taken in the kitchen. Spósito had no liquor in the care of the witness. He was a patron, and paid the witness or the Chinaman when supplied with drink.

Shortly before the police raid on May 2 he personally served about eight guests with beer, called Spósito down from upstairs, and asked him to be in charge of the floor. He then went out for supper. "On my return I found the place had been raided and Spósito had been handed a search warrant. He handed it to me, saying, 'Go down and plead guilty instead of me.' The chief of police was standing near by," the witness testified.

All the liquor seized had been obtained from the government liquor vendors, he declared, agreeing with Mr. Harrison that he was "a common bootlegger, selling liquor in contravention of the Liquor Act." He had been so engaged since February, and in cases when he ran short of supplies he had the privilege of drawing on the private stocks of Creswell and other patrons, making the supply good later. He was positive Spósito had not been selling liquor.

SMALL PURCHASES

Dickson stated definitely he had received one bottle of liquor from Creswell since March. He had sold no liquor other than that bought on his own or Creswell's permits. Examination of Dickson's liquor permit showed he had only bought liquor supplies costing $80 from March 4. The witness told Mr. Harrison he had no bank account, he had paid the $100 monthly rent in cash and had no receipts, believing Spósito to be an honest man.

THE LEASE PROBLEM

Dickson was positive his lease from Spósito was signed before the raid on May 2, but could not say when. He declared the document was signed in Mr. Wall's office, denying a suggestion that he and Spósito had first gone into the private office and then to the hotel to come out with the lease in his hand. Within a week he had signed two copies, one in the Northern Hotel and one in Mr. Wall's office, but could not swear they were alike. Creswell had been witness to both signatures.

There had been a discussion at the Northern Hotel between Spósito and Mr. Wall regarding the date of the lease agreement. The lawyer had been brought to the hotel to witness the execution of the lease. The paper was signed by Spósito and Dickson in the presence of Mr. Wall, but the witness could not say whether Mr. Wall had signed as witness. The meeting was in March. A second copy of the sub-lease was produced in court by Mr. Higgins and was found to be signed by Creswell as witness.

A long list of names was read by Mr. Harrison as being persons found by the police in the room. The witness only recognized a few, explaining that many of the people who patronized him were unknown to him. He had cleared away all the empty bottles prior to leaving the place in the care of Spósito. Dickson said he had had no conversation with the landlord Davis regarding his taking a sub-lease of the first floor. Replying to Judge Lampman, Dickson said he sold a pint of beer for 25 cents.

MEETINGS OVER MONEY BY-LAWS

The by-laws to be submitted on June 25 to have the city borrow $314,000 for airport and other local improvements are to be publicly investigated at meetings to be held by the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, it was announced to-day by John Day. The following public meetings for this purpose are announced: June 12, Victoria West School, 8 p.m. June 15, Sir James Douglas School, 8 p.m. June 17, George Jay School, 8 p.m. June 19, South Park School, 8 p.m. June 22, Girls' Central School, 8 p.m. In addition to the foregoing a general rally will be held in the Chamber of Commerce on June 24. This will be an open meeting for all discussion. These meetings are to be held in the interests of the ratepayers who have to bear the greater burden of the city, the announcement of the Ratepayers' Association says.

COMING TO CAPITOL

Mary Pickford has returned to the madcap, spiffy type of characterization that made her famous. The millions who have loved her in harum-scarum roles will next see her as the hoyden, "Kiki," in her new United Artists picture, a Sam Taylor production, which comes to the Capitol Theatre Monday for a three-day engagement. Taylor, who adapted and directed his production, engaged Earle Browne as his assistant dramatic director. Walter Mayo was his regular production assistant. Both Browne and Mayo have acted in similar capacities for Taylor in a number of pictures. Karl Struss headed the camera battery. Reginald Denny is Miss Pickford's leading man. His latest appearances were in "Madam Satan" and "Three French Girls."

COMPANIES ACT AMENDMENT

Ottawa, June 11.—Directors and officers of private companies would be permitted to audit the books of their companies under an amendment to the Companies Act approved by the banking and commerce committee of the Commons yesterday. The amendment also applies to public companies which do not offer shares, bonds or debentures to the public. The existing law, said John T. Hackett, Conservative, Stansfeld, Que., sponsor of the bill, worked a hardship on small companies really owned by one man. It prevented a man, adding the work of his own employees.

DOMINION THEATRE

A cloudburst that wrecked their entire camp, in the middle of the night, was one of the perils encountered during the filming of "Tracer Horn," which is at the Dominion Theatre for a week's run. Tents were uprooted, and several feet of water wiped away everything movable in the camp. Sleeping players suddenly awoke to find themselves struggling in the torrent. Through quick work by the native camp workers and white overseers, no one was injured.

The party had retired to the tents after a day's work in Uganda, according to Director W. E. Van Dyke, when the storm suddenly broke, and water from the hills swirled into the gully in which the camp was set up. Autos and wagons withstood the charge of the water, so that no permanent equipment was damaged. Players grabbed tent poles and saplings until the flood subsided. Native workers rescued and reared the tents and by morning order was restored.

CAPITOL THEATRE

John Boles was once a teacher in a school for girls. Tiring of the brokerage business, in which he was engaged with his father in Texas, Boles negotiated a loan and went to New York, where he soon secured a position in a young ladies' academy on Long Island, instructing the pupils in singing and in French. Later he went to France and Italy, where he pursued his study of voice under such teachers as Jean de Reske and Oscar Seagle. Returning to New York, he spent several years in musical comedy, and eventually reached the screen. His latest picture is "Seed," in which he is now appearing opposite Genevieve Tobin at the Capitol Theatre.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Adventure, romance and mirth are promised those who attend the Playhouse Theatre for the next three days, where the Fox comedy romance, "Three Girls Lost," opens to-day. With Loretta Young and John Wayne, the romantic leads and Lew Cody at the head of an able supporting cast, the picture is said to be excellently played and clearly told. Director Sidney Lanfield has injected plenty of delightful comedy into the story and the various complications which the feminine trio are drawn into. A simple entertainment. Joyce Compton and Joan Marsh have the important roles of the other two girls. Many of the scenes were filmed in Chicago, the locale of the story.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

The twenty-odd Reklams used in the Far North sequences of "River's End," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone version of the famous Curwood novel, which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, found much to amaze them during the filming of the scenes in which they appeared. They particularly regretted the fact that they would probably never see themselves in the picture. Charles Rickford is featured in a dual role. Evelyn Knapp, Zasu Pitts, J. Farrell McDonald, David Torrence, Walter McDell, Tom Santucci and Jimmy Connelley are in the cast. Michael Curtis directed.

COLISEUM THEATRE

Tempo, according to Richard Eichberg, is as necessary to talking pictures as it is to music. Eichberg, who directed "Night Birds," the Metro Production, now at the Coliseum Theatre, believes that talkie audiences react instantly to dramatic tempo, and sense good picture pace unconsciously. Eichberg plots the emotional value of all his scenes before the cameras start work so that he has an advance chart of the tempo of his pictures.

VERNON SENTENCES

Vernon, B.C., June 11.—Jung Jack, found guilty by jury of peddling opium, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and a fine of $200 by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald at the trial which began yesterday. Reducing the charge against George Broderick, Penttison, from a statutory charge to common assault, the jury found him guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy. Six months' suspended sentence was imposed.
